WEATHER.

U. S. Department of Agriculture, Weather Bureau,
Toledo, O., Sept. 28, 1892.

The low area of pressure central over Lake Superior has moved eastward and is now central over the Gulf of St. Lawrence. A storm of considerable energy is central over the extreme northwest and moving eastward; as yet no rains have been caused by this storm, but conditions are favorable for them over the lake region.

The area of high pressure covers the south Atlantic states, and will dominate the weather of that section during the next 36 hours. A second area of high pressure is central over Lake Superior.

The temperature has fallen over Wyoming, southern Montana, South Dakota and Minnesota. It has risen over the lower lake region, Ohio and middle Mississippi valleys and the extreme northwest; in all other sections it has remained about stationary.

Generally fair weather has prevailed in all parts of the country during the past 24 hours. Light showers have been reported from portions of Missouri, Nebraska, Iowa and Florida.

Local forecast for Toledo and vicinity for the next 36 hours: Fair, followed by rain, slight change in temperature.

It's a sign that you need help, when pimples, blotches, and eruptions begin to appear. Your blood needs looking after. You'll have graver matters than pimples to deal with, if you neglect it. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery prevents and cures all diseases and disorders caused by impure blood. It invigorates the liver, purifies the blood, and promotes all the bodily functions. For all forms of scrofulous, skin and scalp disease, and even Consumption (which is really lung-scrofula) in all its earlier stages, it is a certain remedy. It's the only one that's guaranteed, in every case, to benefit or cure, or the money is refunded. It's a matter of confidence in one's medicine.

It's the cheapest blood-purifier sold, through druggists, because you only pay for the good you get.

Can you ask more?

The "Discovery" acts equally well all the year round.

Band Master Gilmore Placed in His Grave.

The Wishes of His Wife Were Regarded,

And No Gaudy Display Was Made.

Organizations Were in Civilian Dress.

The Obsequies Over the Celebrated Musician Were Largely Attended at His New York Home.

New York, Sept. 28.—The obsequies of Bandmaster Patrick S. Gilmore were held this morning, and were of the most impressive character.

As early as 8 o'clock the house of the late musician on West Eighty-sixth street was crowded with sorrowing friends anxious to have a last look at the face of the popular band leader.

The casket, which was covered with black cloth, was literally smothered with flowers. It was not opened, however, and those who had called to take a last look on the dead were disappointed.

At the hour appointed for the funeral cortege to move the streets in the vicinity of the residence were densely packed with people and those who were to act as an escort from the residence to the church.

No ceremony was held at the house, and a few minutes after 9 o'clock the casket was borne from the house. The remains were followed by the widow, the daughter, Miss Minnie Gilmore, and a number of relatives and friends. There was a roll of muffled drums and many heads were uncovered as the sad cortege moved away to the strains of the Dead March in Saul.

The pallbearers were composed of non-commissioned officers of the Twenty-second regiment.

The casket was a plain black one, with silver trimmings. It was draped in the stars and stripes, and upon it lay a floral wreath. The cortege was headed by a platoon of 20 policemen under Inspector McEvoy. Then came a band playing a dead march, a firing squad of 16 members of the Twenty-second regiment in uniform, who will fire three volleys at the grave, the pallbearers, Press club and other organizations, including the non-commissioned officers of the Twenty-second regiment in uniform, and a long line of carriages.

Three open carriages bore a mass of floral desings, among them a maltese cross bearing the motto of the Twenty-second regiment and a fac-simile of Mr. Gilmore's conducting stand, six feet high.

The line of march was down the boulevard to Fifty-eighth street, to Fifth avenue, to Sixteenth street, to St. Francis Xaviers church. Father Dewey celebrated solemn requiem mass, assisted by Father Van Rensselaer, deacon, and Father Collins, sub-deacon.

Father Perdue delivered the eulogy. A great throng crowded the church and the street in its vicinity. After the services the procession re-formed and marched up Fifth avenue, to Twenty-second street, to First avenue, to Twenty-third, where it disbanded. Only the close friends and the special military detail went on to the cemetery.

In deference to Mrs. Gilmore's wishes there were no uniformed organizations in line except the special detail. All members of the various bodies were in civilan dress.

SAVED FROM THE WRECK.

The Two Men on the Wetmore Rescued.

They Were There Ten Days and Were Almost Starved to Death.

Marshfield, Ore., Sept. 28.—Capt. O'Brien and Wm. Holmes were rescued yesterday from the wrecked whaleback steamer Wetmore, after being on the steamer ten days.

The men were almost dead from exposure and hunger.

The wreck lies within a few hundred yards of the shore, but the sea has been running so high the life saving crew could not reach it until yesterday. The steamer will undoubtedly be a total wreck.

SELECT MASONS ELECT OFFICERS

Zanesville, O., Sept. 28.—The Grand Council Royal Select Master Masons of Ohio was in annual session here to-day. Grand Master Acklin's annual address showed that three new councils had been instituted during the year. Cleveland Council, No. 36, was complimented for the advancement made. The election of officers resulted as follows: Grand Master, Elwin Morrell, of Columbus; Deputy Grand Master, Lewis N. Lea, of Sandusky; G. R. C. W., John S. White, of Cleveland; Grand Treasurer, Samuel B. Evans, of Circleville; Grand Recorder, William E. Evans, of Chillicothe; Grand Conductor, John B. Rowans, of Columbus; Grand Chaplain, Thomas J. Melish, of Cincinnati; Grand Steward, James B. McLaughlin, of Chillicothe; Grand C. of G., Aruthur Crane, of Toledo; Grand Sentinel, Jacob Randall, of Waynesville.

DOUBLE TRAGEDY.

Lake Elmo, Minn., Sept. 28.—Stefan Zecha, 23 years old, shot Mary Wendling, his sweetheart, in the back of the neck last evening and then after running a hundred yards placed the revolver to his head and blew out his brains. He was jealous of the girl and accused her of flirting with other men.

DIPHTHERIA RAGING.

Ashland, Wis., Sept. 28.—Diphtheria is raging at a fearful rate at Butternut. Three deaths occurred Monday, and many new cases were reported yesterday. The schools have been closed and every precaution is being taken to prevent the further spread of the scourge.

AGAINST THE MAYOR.

Noonan Charged with Drunkenness.

St. Louis, Sept. 28.—Councilman Anderson introduced a resolution in the council last night, charging Mayor E. A. Noonan with drunkenness, fraud and oppression in office, and providing for impeachment proceedings. The resolution was defeated by Vice President Sloan's vote, as he was unwilling to proceed at once.

MASSACHUSETTS.

Gov. Russell Again at the Head of the Ticket.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 28.—Gov. Russell was renominated by the democrats on a ringing democratic platform.

It starts out by endorsing the national platform adopted at Chicago; takes strong ground in favor of abandoning the executive council; demands the repeal of the Sherman silver bill of 1890, and, with reference to the state of bank plank of the Chicago platform, says that if the state banks are to be revived gain it must be under the regulation of the national government. It also calls for the choice by the democrats of a candidate for United States senator to be voted for by the democrats of the legislature; calls for a national bankruptcy law; denounces the McKinley bill, and asserts that this measure did not redeem the promise of the republicans to reduce the revenue all along the line; declares the force bill to be an infamous measure to perpetuate the republican party in power, and declares in favor of local self government, denouncing every attempt to govern municipalities by the legislature.

The committee on the balance of the ticket reported as follows, the report being unanimously adopted:

For secretary of state—Charles S. Hamlin, of Brookline.

For treasurer and receiver general—Jas. S. Grinnell, of Greenfield.

For auditor—Irving B. Sales, of Millbury.

For attorney general—Charles F. Lilley, of Lowell.

For presidential electors-at-large—Patrick Collins, of Boston, and John F. Russell, of Leicester.

Then followed the election of members of the state committee-at-large with a few dissenting voices.

The following were elected as presidential electors for the several districts: James M. Stark, of Holyoke; John B. O'Donnell, of Northampton; Charles Haggerty, of Southbridge; Charles J. Williams, of Acton; Peter B. Donohue, of Lowell; James F. Dean, of Salem; Samuel K. Hamilton, of Wakefield; Fred F. French, of Winchester; Edward J. Flynn, of Boston; Josiah Quincy, of Quincy; Robert Bleakie, of Hyde Park; Joseph L. Sweet, of Attleboro; John W. Coughlin, of Fall River. Adjourned.

WENT UNDER A DRAW.

Serious Accident Reported in Cleveland.

A Tug Tows a Barge Into the Viaduct.

Interesting Marine News Gathered From All Over the Great Chain of Lakes.

Cleveland, Sept. 28.—The propeller Burlington brought in three barges, lumber laden from Bay City, last evening about 7 o'clock. Smith's tugs secured the tow, and started up the river close after one another, the barge David Ferguson being towed in the lead. The Viaduct had been open more than ten minutes for the passage of other boats, and Bridge Captain Stewart availed himself of the rule allowing him to close the draw after it had been open that length of time. A long line of street cars and carriages were in waiting at each end of the bridge and he closed it, signaling the tug to check down. The captain of the tug is supposed not to have seen or heard the signals. At any rate he did not, or could not stop, and the result was that the Ferguson had both her spars broken off near the deck, in collision with the bridge. The shock was scarcely perceptible on the draw.

A Big Side-Wheeler.

Hamilton, Ont., Sept. 28.—The Hamilton Bridge and Tool company has signed a contract to build a steel pleasure steamer for the Toronto and Niagara Navigation company. The work will be done at Robertson's shipyard, and the steamer must be in the water by April. It will be a side-wheeler, 311 feet long by 68 feet beam, and will be driven by five boilers 21 by 11 feet in diameter at a speed of over 20 miles an hour. The steamer will be elegantly fitted up and will carry 2,400 people. It will be run from Toronto to Lewiston and Queenston, connecting with the new electric railway. All the work will be done here except the engines, which will be built by a New York firm. The cost will be $250,000.

Buffalo.

Buffalo, Sept. 28.—The tug Maytham broke her crank shaft and went through herself yesterday evening. The crew were not injured.

In the heavy sea last night Hingston & Woods' drill scow was wrecked in the channel at Horse Shoe reef, Niagara river. She pounded on the rocks and was sunk in about fifteen feet of water. She will be at once raised.

Sand Beach.

Sand Beach, Sept. 28.—The Volunteer and Gettysburg lost part of their raft of logs on Saginaw bay yesterday. Wind has changed to northeast and fleet are nearly all gone. Still here—Ellsworth, Reindt, Seaton, Riverside, Locke, Jackson, Cleveland and tow.

Chicago.

Chicago, Sept. 28.—Grain freights held at 2 1-4 cents for wheat to Buffalo and 4 cents on wheat to Kingston. Among the morning's charters were the Pueblo for wheat to Kingston, Topeka oats to Ogdensburg and Yan wheat to Buffalo.

Lower Lake Erie.

Buffalo, Sept. 28.—Coal freights are strong and a good demand for Lake Michigan tonnage, but no boats in sight. Weather unchanged. Chartered, Nicol, Uganda, Duluth, 25.

SPLIT ON THE FORCE BILL

Foraker Wants It; Sherman Does Not.

Prospects of Some Lively Fireworks.

The Band Has Struck Up and the Republican Harmony Procession Can Now Move.

Columbus, O., Sept. 28.—Ohio republicans have discovered that they have a double duty on hand. Not only are they asked to re-elect Harrison, but to keep up an organization in the state which will insure McKinley's nomination for president in 1896.

President Harrison is himself said to favor it. Of course the governor wants to maintain his grip on his own state, so he can have a solid delegation. But if he can't, his friends say the country at large will not heed any factional differences in Ohio, but go straight ahead and nominate him anyhow.

They say McKinley is too big a national figure to be beaten by any opposition at home. Judge Thurman first mentioned the McKinley boom the other night when he said: "One thing is certain. McKinley has been most terribly bitten by the presidential spider."

As persons bitten by spiders generally swell up to twice their normal size, the judge must have had that idea in mind, judging from his quotation from a recent visitor who described the governor rather unpleasantly.

Hon. C. L. Kurtz next spoke of it as very evident or else Col. Poorman, whom McKinley appointed secretary of state, would not be constantly booming McKinley for president in his speeches.

"It seems in bad taste," said Kurtz, "for an appointee to be booming the man who appointed him." All this portends harmony!

Then take another view of it: Ohio republican leaders are cowed down by the McKinley machine and awed into awful silence by the McKinley presidential spectre. Knowing and fearing that he may be nominated in 1896 by a national feeling, those who oppose him at heart in Ohio are afraid to say so or raise a hand against him.

They fear that once he is president he will forever rule them out of any chance for party favor, especially as they know him to be a good hater, and not inclined to political forgiveness. He never forgave Foraker for refusing to appoint Hartshorn oil inspector, and Foraker never quite recovered from the shock he received when McKinley almost demanded the best office in the state 24 hours after the returns showed a republican victory in 1885.

Then there is a division among republican orators about making the force bill an issue. The Sherman-McKinley people think as president Harrison didn't make it prominent in his letter of acceptance he does not want it to be talked about much for fear it might offend a few republicans who faint at the word force.

Sherman says in an interview that the force bill is not an issue and the governor quotes Sherman.

Gov. Foraker was told that his fellow statesmen did not regard the demand for a force bill as an issue in this campaign.

"They don't!" he said quickly. "Well, it is an issue, and they will think it is when they hear from me this week."

Look out for some fireworks when the ex-governor makes his first campaign speech in Sherman's neighborhood Friday.

PAUPERS FOR AMERICA.

England Sending Them by the Ship Load.

The Prince of Wales at the Head of the Society Doing Most of It.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 28.—The report of the five United States immigration commissioners, who went to Europe to investigate at its sources the great stream of immigration which is inundating this country, will be issued in a few days.

One of the commissioners, Mr. Herman J. Schulthies, of Washington, makes some sensational disclosures as to how paupers and criminals are assisted to this country by English and continental charitable societies, of one of which the Prince of Wales is president.

Mr. Schulthies dressed himself as a pauper, and in that disguise was assisted to a steerage passage to the United States by the society of which the Prince of Wales is president. It is unfortunate that specific denials of some of Mr. Schulthies' statements becloud to some extent the credibility of his part of the report on his steerage passage last July. Mr. Schulthies was "discovered" on shipboard by a New York Herald reporter as some may recollect, and the Herald printed, as coming from Mr. Schulthies, a sensational account of how steerage passengers are treated by officers of the steamer.

The officers later denied these statements. Also the English society which assisted Mr. Schulthies to emigrate from that country declares that he represented himself not as a foreign pauper, but as a destitute American desirous of returning home. In spite, however, of these denials, there may be much truth in what Schulthies avers as to pauper and criminal and contract immigration, and the report will throw much needed light upon the whole subject.

M'LUCKIE IS SANGUINE.

The Burgess of Homestead Says that the Workmen Will Win the Strike.

Youngstown, O., Sept. 28.—Burgess McLuckie, of Homestead, Pa., who came here to consult with W. S. Anderson, the well known criminal attorney, is still in the city.

In talking about the Homestead trouble Mr. McLuckie said that he believed that the Carnegie company would be defeated.

A startling statement which he made was that quite a number do not believe that Chairman Frick was shot at all. He says that Dave Lynch met Frick several days after the shooting, and talked with him, when it was supposed that he was in bed.

On being asked regarding Bergmann, the anarchist, McLuckie said that the prisoner would not be incarcerated a great while, but would be released as soon as affairs reached a proper stage.

The trial of the Homestead men, he said, would involve an immense amount of labor and money, and it was well known that the Carnegie company would spare nothing to convict the indicted men.

WANTS A RECEIVER.

Affidavits Stating a Deficit of $120,000.

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 28.—The state banking department has made application for the appointment of a receiver for the Life and Reserve association on affidavits setting forth a $120,000 deficit. Decision will be rendered Friday.

QUIETLY MARRIED.

An Ex-Mayor of Norwalk Surprises His Friends—Notes.

Norwalk, O., Sept. 28.—The Beckett Smoke Consuming company, of Norwalk, was incorporated on Monday with a capital stock of $20,000. The incorporators are Dr. E. N. Hawley, Charles Suhr, and G. F. Bruner, of Norwalk, and Thomas Beckett and James Howe, of Toledo. Mr. Beckett is the inventor of the consumer, which is an entirely new idea.

Charles McGuckin was arraigned before the mayor this morning for drunkenness and disorderly conduct. He pleaded guilty, and was sentenced to pay a fine of $10 and costs, amounting in all to $26.60, and to be confined in the Cleveland workhouse for 30 days.

It has just been made public that ex-Mayor H. K. House, of this city, was married on the 22d inst., to Mrs. Addie Otis, of this city.

BACK TO HAMBURG.

The Normannia Returns Across the Deep.

The Cholera Ship Will Not Be Allowed to Land on This Side of the Water.

New York, Sept. 28.—The Hamburg-American company's express steamer Normannia weighed anchor off upper quarantine at 10 a. m. to-day and steamed off for Southampton, carrying no cargo or passengers.

She was the last of the Hamburg express steamers to sail from Hamburg. She arrived at the upper boarding station early on the morning of September 3, and was at once ordered to lower quarantine, where she joined the Moravia of the same line, the pioneer cholera ship, which arrived there on August 30.

The Normannia laid in the lower bay until the afternoon of Sept. 20, when she and the Moravia were allowed to go to upper quarantine.

Neither the Scandia, Rugia, Bohemia or Moravia of the same line, which have had cholera aboard, will be allowed to land at their docks.

WILL THEY FIGHT?

Canada and Russia in Close Quarters.

A British Man-of-War Now Bound to Rescue the Imprisoned Sealers.

Ottawa, Ont., Sept. 28.—Despite the denial from London that a British man-of-war had been sent to Siberia to secure the release of the Canadian sealers now supposed to be held prisoners there by the Russians, Hon. C. H. Tupper, Canadian minister of marine, says the man-of-war is now on its way.

PAROCHIAL SCHOOLS.

Dr. Anton Heller, of Buffalo, Says that They Are Real Catholic Institutions.

Newark, N. J., Sept. 28.—The sixth German Catholic Congress was formally opened when Archbishop Corrigan celebrated pontifical high mass at St. Peter's church yesterday.

The mass proceeded with the usual pomp with the archbishop as the celebrant and Vicar General John O'Connor as assistant priest. The Very Rev. Dr. Anton Heller, of Buffalo, preached the sermon. He spoke in German for an hour. He said in part: "The disease of the time is the indifferent religious feeling or the thoughtlessness of one's faith. No country is free from this disease." Speaking of school systems of various kinds he said: "In all our parochial schools English is the main language. Some have criticised our system, and I will say it so loud that all may hear, that our parochial schools are real Catholic institutions that have no national tendency except that the scholars be taught to become good citizens and remain practical Catholics. Should we hold a hundred Catholic congresses our cry will always be 'our Catholic schools are necessary and must be sustained, notwithstanding anything to the contrary that may be said.'"

FREQUENT QUARRELS

Occur Between Union and Non-Union Men at Homestead.

Pittsburg, Sept. 28.—The past 12 hours have been eventful for the strikers at Carnegie's union mills and the Carnegie interest. Frequent quarrels between union and non-union men have occurred upon the street, some of which ended seriously, and a number of costly breakdowns occurred within the mills. As a result of the street encounters, William Reed, a former puddler, lies with a fractured skull in the Seventeenth ward police station under the care of a physician. Patrick Duffy, John Smith, and John McDonald are already serving out sentences in the workhouse and must appear to answer further charges preferred, and James Conley, a striker, awaits a hearing charged with felonious assault. Five breakdowns in various parts of the mill followed in rapid succession, and several departments were shut down in consequence. A number of deserters from the mill have reported at Amalgamated headquarters since the beginning of the week.

CHOKED TO DEATH.

Three Small Children Murdered by a Woman Who Is Believed to be Insane.

Bordentown, N. J., Sept. 28.—Lena Schmitt, a German woman of this place, murdered three small children by choking them to death in her house.

One of the victims was her own son and the other two were the little sons of William Bowker, a neighbor.

The children's ages range from 1 to 3 years. The woman, who is believed to be insane, after killing the children went to Marshal Jobes and told him that he would find three dead babies in the house at No. 4 Chestnut street.

She admitted that she had killed the children, but said she could not tell why she did it. Marshal Jobes notified the police, and the woman was locked up.

WHITROCK IS OUT.

The Famous Jim Cummings Gets His Release.

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 28.—Fred Whitrock, alias "Jim" Cummings, who, some six years ago bound and gagged Express Messenger Fotheringham on the Iron Mountain road, near St. Louis, and robbed the car of something like $80,000 in money and securities has been released from the penitentiary at Jefferson City, and was here yesterday. He looks little worse for his long confinement. He said he got from Fotheringham's car $54,000 in money and about $30,000 worth of valuable papers. He announces his intention of going to work honestly.

ROULES MAKES A CONFESSION.

Columbus, Sept. 28.—John Roules, one of the suspects arrested for the assault upon Fannie Mulligan, on Sunday morning, has confessed. He states that Pete Burton, an ex-convict, arrested under the name of Joe McGinty, was the first one to drag the woman into the room over Mahoney's saloon and outrage her. He accused Burns with assault upon the helpless woman also. Roules was asleep in the room when the men brought the colored woman from the street and attacked her. Barney Downing, another of the suspects, corroborated the story of Roules. Frank Mulligan, the husband of the woman, walked in from Circleville this morning to see her. The woman continues to improve at St. Anthony's hospital.

NO ROSES FOR MR. PECK

His Path Is Full of Prickly Thorns.

Called Into Court on Another Charge.

He Wants to Stand on the Ground That the Documents He Burned Were Private Property.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 28.—The second of the series of cases against Charles F. Peck, labor commissioner of the state, was up for a hearing in the court of special sessions this afternoon at 3 o'clock. It was a separate action from that of yesterday and is a proceeding to punish Mr. Peck for the alleged destruction of original papers from which he compiled his report.

Mr. Peck makes denial of the destruction of any public papers, claiming, as in his affidavit yesterday, that the communications and letters upon which those statistics were based were never filed or made a record in his office and were never the property of the state, but were private letters and whatever property exists in them is divided between the deponent, as the receiver, and the several senders of th letters, and that he is advised by counsel that injunction would be against him if he attempted in any way to make public the matter guaranteed as private matter and held as secret and confidential.

Mr. Peck appeared in court with his counsel, Mr. Meegan, and Mr. Chase, and District Attorney Eaton for the people.

CHARGED WITH ARSON.

Felix Renaud Placed Under Arrest.

He Is Suspected of Starting the Fire That Burned Batouche.

St. Johns, N. B., Sept. 28.—Felix Renaud, a son of Collector of Customs Renaud, ex-member of parliament, has been arrested with another young man, charged with incendiarism, by which the town of Batouche was destroyed.

It is stated that the fire was started to destroy a large quantity of smuggled liquor from St. Pierre, which the dominion officials were on the scent of and which was stored at Batouche.

MAY YET BE SERIOUS.

Latest Developments in Bering Sea—Hint at War Between Russia and England.

Toronto, Ont., Sept. 28.—A special dispatch to the Globe from Ottawa says: "It is reported here that the captain of one of the British Columbia sealing vessels seized by Russia in the Bering sea, is here for the purpose of furnishing the government with affidavits of his seizure and information as to others; also that he makes the following statement: Having been in the Baltic, he understands the Russian language, and while a prisoner on board a Russian gunboat learned from the conversation and actions of the Russian officers that they were instructed to make only a pretense of seizing American vessels, the real object being to assert such rights in Bering sea as would materially assist the United States in the approaching arbitration. Be this as it may, cablegrams regarding these seizures are passing daily between the British and Canadian governments, and the sending of a British gunboat to the scene is regarded as ominous. The contingency is certainly contemplated of a war between Russia and England, and if these seizures and consequent violations of the treaty of 1825 between Russia and England are regarded as a casus belli with the United States assisting Russia, the possible consequences to Canada are very serious."

CENTRAL OHIO CONFERENCE

Of the Methodist Episcopal Church in Session

At Van Wert—Preliminary Business—Dr. Belt Reports for the Bellefontaine District—Other Matters.

Van Wert, Sept. 28—(Special.)—The Central Ohio M. E. conference opened at 9 o'clock this morning, Bishop Nude in the chair. Prayer was offered by Revs. Rouche, Graham, Henderson, and Belt.

The bishop made appropriate remarks upon his first visit to the conference.

One hundred and thirty preachers answered their names.

Died during the year—Harrison Maltbie, Moses Hubbard, John C. Miller, Samuel Boggs and Lemuel Herbert.

C. W. Tannyhill was elected secretary, with Daniel Carter, John W. Holland and Thomas Campbell assistants.

E. S. Dunham was elected statistical secretary, and John Parlette treasurer.

J. L. Albritton was appointed reporter for the Bee and Rev. T. N. Barkdull for the Western Advocate.

Dr. Kean, the evangelist, was introduced, as was Dr. Spencer, who addressed the conference on church extension.

Book concern dividends were allowed for $1,650, also $25 from the chartered fund.

The standing committees were appointed.

The two preachers' aid societies were consolidated.

Dr. Belt reported on Bellefontaine district, showing prosperity in all the charges and the character of all the preachers was passed.

Much interest is manifested in the penecostal meetings, the large church being packed last night.

The conference is hardly down to business yet, but the prospects are fair for a pleasant session.

IT MAY MEAN WAR.

And the Lion May Get His Mane Beautifully Disordered.

London, Sept. 28.—Cablegrams regarding Russian seizures in Bering sea are passing daily between the British and Canadian governments, and the sending of a British gunboat to the scene is regarded as ominous. The contingency is certainly contemplated of a war between Russia and England, and if these seizures and consequent violations of the treaty of 1825 between Russia and England are regarded as a casus belli, with the United States assisting Russia, the possible consequences to Canada are very serious.

OVER A THOUSAND BALLOTS.

Montgomery, Ala., Sept. 28.—The democratic congressional convention of the Second district met again at Evergreen, having adjourned at Brewton over a week ago after 750 ballots. J. F. Stallings, of Butler, was nominated on the 1,001st ballot. His opponents were Hon. H. Tompkins and Capt. A. A. Wiley, both of Montgomery. Hon. H. A. Herbert, present representative, was not a candidate for renomination.

THE REPUBLICAN LEAGUE MEETING.

Columbus, O., Sept. 28.—President W. L. Squire, of the Ohio Republican League, came down from Toledo to meet with the executive committee of that body. The attendance was not large and the meeting was accordingly postponed until to-morrow morning, when important campaign matters will be discussed. The league intends to take an active part in arranging for meetings and speakers, and also in perfecting club organizations.

HAVING LIVELY TIMES.

The Pan Presbyterian Congress in Toronto,

Discusses the Sunday Closing of the Fair.

A Delegate Who Does Not Look With Favor on Unordained Presbyterians.

Toronto, Sept. 28.—The Tuesday session of the Pan-Presbyterian council was devoted to the reception of reports on the work on the European continent. Rev. Dr. J. Marshall Lang, of Glasgow, presented the report of the eastern section, and Rev. Dr. W. C. Cottell, of Philadelphia, that of the western section. Addresses bearing on the subject were delivered by Rev. Consistorialroth Gobel, of Munter, Germany; Rev. A. Brocher, of Brussels, Belgium; William Wood, of Dresden, Germany, and Rev. Dr. Hall, of New York. Rev. John Cameron, D. D., of Dunoon, Scotland, presided.

The question of closing the Chicago world's fair on Sundays was reported upon by the business committee, and the council, as holding the consensus of the reformed church throughout the world, expressed its cordial satisfaction with the action of the United States congress in closing the wrold's fair on Sunday, and expressed the opinion that this would tend to a better observance of the Lord's Day.

After the motion that the report be adopted was seconded, Dr. Pitser, of Washington, said: "Would there be any objection to put 'Sunday' in place of 'the Lord's day' in the resolution, because it will go to a government that does not know anything about the Lord's day, but does know something about Sunday."

Rev. Dr. Kerr, of Glasgow, moved as an amendment to the report the original resolution which he had offered and which had been referred to the business committee. Dr. Kerr's resolution was much more flattering to congress. It read:

"This council declares its admiration of the recent action of the congress of the United States in favor of closing the gates of the Columbian exposition on the Lord's day; expresses the ardent hope that there shall be no reversal of this action, and, as a council holding the concensus of the reformed churches, especially rejoices in the decision, as it illustrates the great scriptural doctrine of the binding obligation of the Lord's day on all peoples, and prepares the way for other action and reforms which would recognize the supremacy of the Lord Jesus Christ over nations, and promote civil and religious prosperity of all communities."

Dr. Kerr's concluding sentence in support of his amendment was: "We find fault with the civil authorities when they do wrong; let us commend them when they do right."

Rev. Dr. Brownson, of Washington, said that his government was sensitive. He thought that the council should deal gently with the matter.

The Rev. Dr. Rentoul, of Australia, regretted that Dr. Kerr pressed his particular phrasing of the resolution. "We should be careful and courteous in our manner of approaching any government," he said.

Then Dr. Hall, of New York, sprang to the platform and suggested that the question be referred back to the committee, saying, "We, in this body, must set an example to all the churches in order, wisdom and gentleness."

Rev. Dr. George, of Beaver Falls, Pa., denied that Dr. Kerr's resolution introduced the matter of church and state.

John Charlton, M. P., wanted the fair closed on Sunday, but he objected to congress being singled out for admiration. Great Britain deserved some recognition for what she had done in the past, and several states of the union had also placed themselves on record. After this exceedingly lively time votes were taken and the milder resolution of the committee was adopted. The afternoon session of the council was devoted to discussion on spiritual life. The delegates are beginning to leave, and the attendance of visitors was not as large as usual.

"The Relation and Duty of the Church to Outside Societies Doing Christian Work," was the subject of discussion at the evening session. Addresses were delivered by Rev. Dr. Burrell, of New York; Rev. R. McCheyne Edgar, of Dublin; Rev. Dr. McKibbin, of Cincinnati, and Rev. B. McAdam Muir, of Edinburg. By these speakers the existence of outside societies was attributed to the failure of the church in some of the most important fields of Christian effort. The importance of bringing these auxiliaries under the direction of the church was emphasized, although the speakers admitted they did not fail to recognize the good these organizations are accomplishing. The severest criticism of some of the methods of organizations and individuals came from Mr. Elgar, who did not regard favorably unordained evangelists such as Mr. Moody.

St. Louis, Sept. 28.—Shugart, the Pittsburg ball team's shortstop, will, it is reported, be traded to the St. Louis club for Glasscock who holds the same position in the home team. The ten days' notice of release given Glasscock in Washington by Mr. Von der Ahe has expired and the exchange for the Pittsburg man has been on the books several days. The only bar to its consummation is a cash bonus which Mr. Von der Ahe thinks he should have.

Cleveland, Sept. 28.—The Cleveland club management have made arrangements by which the last two games with Louisville will be played in this city.

—::—::—

Chicago, Sept. 28.—Only two of the six games scheduled for Chicago in October will be played here. April and October are bad months for the sport. The weather is generally cold and the crowds small. The Pittsburg games of October 7 and 8 have been transferred to the Smoky City, and President Hart to-day received a telegram from Manager Bancroft, asking that the games scheduled here for October 10 and 11 be transferred to Cincinnati. The request will be granted and the local season will close with the games with Louisville October 5 and 6. President Hart favors the abandonment of the double season and the cutting down of the playing season from seven to six months. He thinks 132 games for each club with two trips east and west the proper caper and believes that ball players' contracts should call for six months' service and a proportionate reduction in salaries.

INDIANA.

Big Excitement in the Oil Fields.

Property Bringing Big Figures and Everybody on Tip Toe.

St. Marys, O., Sept. 28.—(Special)—The oil excitement has broken out with renewed energy in the Indiana field, and considerable interest is being concentrated there by oil men from all over the country at present, as the field gives promise of being more productive than this famous field was in its best day.

The first oil well that was drilled there, several years ago, started out at the rate of 80 barrels per day, and this unexpected find immediately gave the field a big impetus. Your correspondent made a tour of the field a few days ago, and found everybody in a tremor of excitement.

Big prices are being paid for leases, and the entire country is flooded with oil men from this state who are losing no time in gobbling up every available strip of land. The counties comprising the oil belt at present are Grant, Jay, Blackford, Adams and Wells, while the line is gradually creeping in a northwesterly direction. Thus far over 215 oil wells have been completed in the Indiana field, with a production of about 3,000 barrels per day. Last week several 300-barrel producers were brought in, and caused something like a sensation, as the territory in which they were drilled had been considered worthless.

There has been a frantic rush for territory in this vicinity the past few days, and should the prolific flow of oil prove to be only a pocket, which is altogether likely, those who are paying such fabulous prices for leases will soon find their balances on the wrong side of the ledger, if the land should not pan out as well as is expected.

DEMOCRACY.

The Societies Meet in Annual Session in Camden, N. J.

Camden, N. J., Sept. 28.—The democratic Society of New Jersey met in annual convention at the Seventh Regiment armory, 100 clubs being represented.

The platform heartily indorses the platform of the democratic party adopted at the national and state conventions and the principles and policy so ably enunciated in the letter of acceptance of Grover Cleveland and urges the state to co-operate in the work of the society.

IN "OVER THE TEA-CUPS."

Course Often Pursued by the Indisposed.

'Auriscoped by an Aurist, Ausculted by a Stethoscopist."

Looking on the Surface and Diving to the Bottom:

Half of us are sick.

And invalidism is the matter with any quantity of us. It is a very common complaint and is growing commoner.

It appears in the form of an annoying variety of ills, running the whole gamut from a nervous toothache to the painful and more serious pangs of rheumatism.

Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes in his "Over the Tea-Cups," describes very aptly the course often pursued by people who are thus afflicted: "I was auriscoped by an aurist," says a certain man, "laryngoscoped by a laryngologist, ausculted by a stethoscopist, and so on, until a complete inventory of my organs was made out, and I found that if I believed all these searching inquiries professed to have detected in my unfortunate person, I could

Mrs. F. O. Willard.

repeat with too literal truth the words of the General Confession, 'And there is no health in us.'"

There are a lot of such people keeping young doctors in practice who will never get well of their ailments until they dive to the bottom of things and correct causes which are to be found, as all the great healers have agreed, in an impaired nervous system.

It was for these people whose nervous mechanism had begun to run down, and whose blood was impoverished, that Dr. Phelps of Dartmouth college first began to prescribe the now famous Paine's celery compound, which has made more sick people well than any other discovery in medicine.

Hundreds of testimonials from eminent people who have been cured by taking this compound have been published within a year. And their example has been followed by hundreds of good people in all sections of the country who feel it their duty to let others know the great good this remedy has done them.

Mrs. F. O. Willard, of Leominster, Mass., is one of them. She says: "We are glad to add our testimony to that of others in favor of Paine's celery compound. The medicine has helped my husband wonderfully. Last year he was laid up about four months with rheumatism, cramps, etc., and as he is a very nervous person he would often get but two hours' sleep at night. During the time that he was sick he had a doctor to see him a part of the time every day.

He soon after commenced taking Paine's celery compound, and very soon he was able to sleep better, and now he sleeps as well as any one. He is able to attend to his work, he has only had one attack of cramps since, and scarcely a touch of rheumatism.

"You may be sure that we appreciate what it has done for him. He has just recommended the compound to the superintendent of the piano factory where he works, who sent immediately for the compound, and to a fellow workman who was troubled the same way that he was.

"As for myself, I have suffered for ten years from distressing neuralgic headache. The pain would be in the forepart of my head and eyes, and on the top of my head it would seem as if there was a five-pound flat iron. But now, after taking the compound, I can say that I am much better this year than last. It seemed impossible for me to do my work last year, but I have done it so far this year and have felt equal to it, thanks to the wonderful compound. My headaches are not as frequent or as severe as they were before taking the compound, although my trouble is of very long standing. Mr. Willard and myself are willing and do recommend the compound whenever there is an opportunity."

INJUNCTION ASKED FOR.

Legal Steps Taken at Chicago to Break Up the Reading Combine.

Chicago, Sept. 28.—State's Attorney Longenecker took the first legal steps today towards breaking up the coal trust. An information was filed in the circuit court to restrain the Philadelphia & Reading Coal and Iron company and J. W. Skeele, its agent in Chicago, from selling anthracite coal in the county of Cook, Ill., on the ground of unlawful combination.

The petition, which is filed in the name of the people of the state of Illinois, sets forth that in February, 1892, in the state of New Jersey, the Philadelphia & Reading Coal and Iron company was incorporated and ever since has been doing business in New Jersey and elsewhere. At that time the corporation is said to have entered into a trust and combination with the Philadelphia & Reading Railroad company, the Port Reading Railroad company of New Jersey, and the Lehigh Valley Railroad company, all incorporated, to regulate and fix the price of a commodity called anthracite coal, and to fix the quantity to be mined and sold.

The Reading company and the other corporations, it is said, are about to unlawfully fix, regulate and advance the price of coal, regardless of the demand or amount to be purchased or consumed, in violation of the state laws, and to the damage of the people of the state of the county of Cook of over $100,000.

Under these circumstances the court is asked to compel the Reading company to answer whether it has entered into the combination, and if not to set forth the agreement or arrangement it has made with the other corporations. The court is asked to grant an injunction prohibiting the company from doing business in the county of Cook, state of Illinois. No further steps than filing the petition were taken, and an injunction has not been granted.

NEW YORK RENTS.

How It Happens That They Are So Much Higher Than Elsewhere.

A professional man in another city being offered a position in New York at double the salary he was receiving at home, was eager to accept, until he found, on investigation, that the rent of a house here, as large and as well situated as the one he was living in, would equal the amount of the entire salary he was offered, and then he declined. The rent problem is the most serious of all financial problems to the man of moderate means in New York. The city has an area of 41 square miles, in which there is a population of nearly 1,800,000, while Philadelphia, with over 129 square miles of territory, has something over 1,040,000 inhabitants. There is an average of 635 square feet of space to each inhabitant of New York, while there is an average of 3,425 square feet for each inhabitant of Philadelphia. There is still room, however, for many more people in New York, although in one district the population is denser than in any other part of the world. But New York is long and narrow, with the business "center" at the southern extremity, and, with imperfect systems of rapid transit this renders the house problem much more difficult than in other cities.

It is not surprising, therefore, to learn from the federal census of 1890 that New York, with 312,766 families, has only 81,828 dwellings, while Philadelphia, with 205,135 families, has 187,052 dwellings. In New York there are over 18 1-2 persons to every dwelling on an average, while in Philadelphia there are only a little over 5 1-2. These statistics explain in a measure why it is that rents are so high in New York. A whole house in New York is a luxury that comparatively few people can enjoy. Only 37,604 families out of 312,766 live in houses containing no other families. Over 42 per cent. of all the dwellings in New York are tenement houses. There are 8,672 dwellings which contain 10 families and over each: there are 7,385 in which live from seven to nine families: there are 2,934 which contain six families and there are 3,551 which contain five families. Over one-fourth of all the dwellings contain an average of over 20 persons each. The condition of things in this city so increases the totals for the whole state, that while in the entire United States the average number of persons to a dwelling is 5.45, the average in New York state is 6.70, which is more than in any other state of the union. It is not strange, therefore, that this city should be the landlord's paradise. Here many a man is obliged to give one-fourth to one-third of his income to the landlord. The purchase of a house, even on the installment plan, becomes an undertaking which few persons are courageous enough to enter upon. Apartments in a flat house rent for more than whole houses do in other cities, and even two or three rooms in a tenement cost as much as a little dwelling elsewhere. It is this condition of things that has contributed to the rapid growth of Brooklyn and the suburbs of the metropolis, where land is cheaper and rents are lower than they can possibly be in the city.—New York Letter to Philadelphia Ledger.

ROUGH ON THE OLD FOGY.

He Was Induced to Take His Seat, However, When They Sat on Him.

A prominent man in the city, who is noted for his close-fisted proclivities, is being guyed by a number of his friends, relates a writer in the Grand Forks Herald. A few days ago he met with the directors of his company. It happens that there is a very comely maiden who hammers the keys of a typewriter for the company, and this has worried the avaricious gentleman quite a good deal, as he is of the opinion that a woman's place is at home. He has tried on several occasions to have her salary cut down to almost nothing, and any bills for expense coming from her are always given the closest scrutiny by him. At the meeting mentioned the directors were auditing bills and among them was one that read thus: "Ribbon for typewriter, 75 cents." When the avaricious gentleman noticed it he was dumfounded—he could not believe his senses. The idea of the company furnishing the young lady stenographer with ribbon fairly froze him. He was on his feet in an instant, waving his arms like a windmill and demanding of the secretary if the company was compelled to board and clothe its employes. After he had been laughed at for some minutes it was explained to him that the ribbon was for the machine and not for the operator.

AN INTERESTING GAME OF BILLIARDS

"I played billiards with Jesse James shortly before the Ford boys wound up his checkered career," said Samuel A. Grice, now at the Lindell. "Jesse was living at St. Joe under the name of Howard. I strolled into a billiard saloon one night and he was at one of the tables, punching the ivories around, evidently waiting for a game. I offered to play, and we kept it up until after midnight. We then walked up the street together and incidentally fell to talking about the large reward offered for the capture of Jesse James. 'He will never be taken alive,' remarked my companion. 'Do you know him?' I asked. 'Well,' he replied, slowly, 'I know him well enough to know that he will never be caged up for fools to stare at.' Two days later Jesse was killed. I visited the undertaker's establishment, where the body was laid out on ice, and the dead bandit was my companion of the billiard hall. He had been taken at last, but they got him dead. Jesse was a companionable fellow, but heartless. When the James and Younger gangs attempted to raid the bank at Northfield, Minn., and were driven off and hotly pursued Jesse suggested that they kill their wounded companions, but Cole Younger, whose brother Bob was one of the cripples, would not consent. He stayed with the wounded, was captured and is now making reapers in the Stillwater penitentiary, while Jesse looked out for No. 1, escaped and was perforated by the pistol of Bob Ford. But the money got by the Ford boys for their treachery does not appear to have done them much good. Charlie committed suicide and Bob got a dose of the same medicine he gave Jesse. The path of the transgressor does not appear to grow any softer as the years roll on."—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

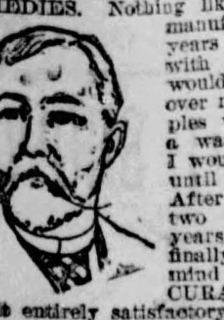
Suffered, Scratched and Bled. Doctors No Relief. Cured by Two Sets Cuticura Remedies.

I wish to express my thanks for the benefit I have derived from using CUTICURA REMEDIES. Nothing like them was ever manufactured. For 3 years have I suffered with a sore head. I would break out all over my head with pimples which would form a watery matter, and I would have to scratch until I would bleed. After doctoring with two doctors for three years, more or less, I finally made up my mind to try your CUTICURA REMEDIES with result entirely satisfactory to me. After using two sets of CUTICURA REMEDIES, I am entirely cured. I have recommended your remedies to several persons, and they all tell me they are No. 1. Our druggist is doing a nice business in CUTICURA REMEDIES, since my cure. I have given him the privilege of using my name as proof of their efficiency. I enclose my portrait.



A. F. GRAMM,
Photographer, Mt. Horeb, Wis.

My wife has been troubled with the salt rheum for four years. During this time doctors of Wisconsin, Illinois, and the most eminent doctors of Chicago, failed to give relief. I bought the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and she used only one box of CUTICURA, CUTICURA SOAP, and half a bottle of the CUTICURA RESOLVENT, and these have cured my wife completely.

C. M. STONE, 141 State St., Chicago, Ill.

Dr. C. W. Higgins denies that he is about to leave Toledo, and the doctor ought to know. He proposes to remain in the Future Great. Mrs. Higgins, however, will visit New York relatives and friends, going on Saturday. It is probable that the error gained credence from this latter announcement.

Getting Ready for Another Shake-Up.

It is stated on good authority that the republican members of the police board intend to engineer another charge among the officers of the police department.

A Bad Boarder.

Ed O'Hern is under arrest for having assaulted Owen McCue yesterday in a boarding house at the corner of Jervis and Sumner streets, and also for having stolen $4 from a man named Homer, who boarded at the same place.

We Are Eating Grapes.

Through the kindly remembrance of the Lenk Wine company of this city the Bee force has indulged in a treat to-day, from two baskets of fine grapes, for which thanks are returned.

Another Liquor Suit.

Mary Mullen sued Joseph Veo in common pleas court to recover $10,000 damages. She alleges that Veo sold her husband, Jeremiah Mullen, liquor, after being duly notified not to do so.

Robbed in a Boarding House.

Daniel Grup, who boards at 901 Curtis street, has reported to the police that yesterday some one went through his trunk and took therefrom a gold watch and $10 in money. He suspects a fellow boarder, but no arrest has yet been made.

Oliver House Change.

Arrangements are being completed to-day for the transfer of the management of the Oliver houes. The inventory of the furnishings are being taken, and the transfer will probably be made the first of the month. The present manager goes east on account of his health.

Ohio Health, Toledo Included.

The weekly bulletin of the state board of health shows 149 new cases of diphtheria developed with 25 deaths; 94 cases of scarlet fever with 2 deaths; 81 cases of typhoid fever with 17 deaths; 17 cases of whooping cough with 1 death; 9 cases of measles, but no deaths. Toledo reported five cases of diphtheria and two deaths. Scarlet fever, three cases; typhoid fever, eight cases.

Received a Good Dose.

Christ Weiss, a vicious-looking German, was tried by the police judge this morning for abusing his family. The evidence showed that besides striking and choking his better half at occasional intervals, Weiss also drove her and his son out of the house, and that one night his wife had to sleep in the barn. He was sentenced to pay a fine of $30 and costs and serve 30 days in the workhouse.

Quarterly Meeting.

On next Monday evening, October 3, the quartely meeting of the teachers and officers' council of the First Presbyterian church, will be held in the church parlors.

Reports of the different committees will be received, and new work inaugurated.

Generally light refreshments are served at these meeting, and a social season enjoyed, but the large amount of business to be disposed of will probably prevent this part of the program from being carried out.

The meeting will be very important and interesting, and every member of the council should be present.

Time Will Develop, My Boy.

The Toledo papers express the belief that the gas concern that gets the most gas pumps to work in the field will have the benefit of the largest supply of gas. This woul naturall seem to be the result, but a careful analysis of the situation would indicate that it will not be the case. For instance wells that have fluid in them cannot be pumped, hence the natural flow is all that can be produced from such wells. Toledo's wells, it appears, are nearly all fluid wells and in consequence cannot be pumped without ruining them. This being the case the only benefit that city will derive from her gas pumps is the aid in overcoming the friction in the line—which in her case will be quite a big thing to be sure.—Fostoria Times.

Thh Revival at Bartlett Street Church.

Miss Jeanie Harris, the blind soloist, has suffered from a cold since coming to Toledo. She is much improved, however, and charmed her audience at the Bartlett street church last night with her sweet, soul-stirring songs. She sings two or more solos at each meeting, and seems to have an inexhaustable supply on hand.

Rev. B. C. Black preached an excellent sermon at the Bartlett street church last evening. He is a preacher and can not be heard without interest. There have been additions to the church each day since he came to Toledo. He will probably remain two weeks with the church.

This Afternoon's Launch.

All arrangements have been made for the launching of the steamer Ann Arbor No. 1 at the Craig shipyards this afternoon at 4 o'clock. The vessel is a mammoth affair, briefly described as follows: Length over all, 261 feet; beam, 52 feet; depth, 18 feet; three compound engines, each 20 and 40 inches diameter of cylinder by 36 inches stroke; four steel fire-box boilers; capacity 24 loaded cars.

People's Party Nominee for Congress.

The members of the people's party in this congressional district met yesterday afternoon at Rensch's hall, to place in nomination a candidate for congress. W. W. Dunipace, of Wood county, was chairman. A committee reported the following resolution, which was adopted:

Resolved, That this convention indorse the national platform of the people's party adopted at Omaha, Neb., July 4, 1892, and the state platform adopted at Massillon, Ohio, August 7, 1892 and pledge our votes to the candidates supporting these platforms.

Chairman Dunipace was nominated for congress, and H. C. Beard, of Lucas, for elector.

St. Paul's Chapter Epworth League.

At the annual business meeting of St. Paul's chapter, Epworth league last evening, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President—W. L. Laskey.
First Vice President—J. W. Wilson.
Second Vice President—Alta M. Smith.
Third Vice President—Caroline Ransom.
Fourth Vice President—Geo. L. Padgett
Secretary—Daisy Farley.
Assistant Secretary—Minnie Jordan.
Treasurer—Jas. T. Thompson.
Agent Epworth Herald—C. C. Whitmore.
Wardens—W. S. Herron, O. K. Marvin, D. B. Maurer and Will Ernst.

Several minor changes were made in the constitution, to correspond with recommendations made by the national board of control. The meeting was well attended, and characterized by an aggressive spirit which bids fair for efficient work the coming year.

Laid to Rest.

Sister Ann, of the Ursuline convent, whose death on Sunday morning, was mentioned in the Bee, was laid to rest yesterday, her funeral taking place from the convent chapel.

Monseignor Boff, of Cleveland, delivered the funeral oration after the singing of high mass.

Sister Ann was a lay nun, that is, her duties lay in attending to kitchen and other domestic duties, and for 25 years she faithfully performed the humble service.

She was one of the oldest nuns in the convent, and one of the most devout.

Her demise is deeply regretted by her associates and sisters.

Messrs. M. J. Cooney, P. A. MacGahan, W. F. Atwill, John J. Murphy, M. Donovan and A. L. D'Alton officiated as pallbearers.

SMOKE CONSUMING COMPANY

Organized Yesterday With a Capital Stock of $20,000.

Thomas Beckett, of this city, is the inventor of an ingenious smoke consuming apparatus. Yesterday was organized what will be known as the Beckett Smoke Consuming company with a capital stock of $20,000.

The incorporators are James Howe and Thos. Beckett, of Toledo, and Dr. E. W. Hawley, Charles Suhr and G. F. Bruner, of Norwalk.

THE WOMAN'S CLUB.

Work to Be Resumed This Week—Meeting Will be Held in the Bee Building.

The public is familiar with the initiatory work of establishing the Woman's club in a home of its own. Much interest was manifested last winter and spring. The work, which was suspended during the summer months, will be resumed at once, the first meeting being held in the Bee editorial rooms on Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Miss Emily Bouton, chairman of the committee, requests a full attendance, that active work may at once commence.

'TWILL BE A G .

Plans for the Columbus Day Celebration Being Pushed.

Mayor Emmick is hard at work arranging preliminaries for the Columbian celebration.

The soliciting lists were sent out to the members of the committee yesterday afternoon, and a meeting of the committee called for next Tuesday evening. On this occasion the committee will organize and appoint the various committees and some plan of action will be adopted.

Invitations have been extended to all civic and military organizations in the city. The Elks, Foresters, and Red Men have responded, signifying their hearty cooperation in the celebration of the event.

NEW CASES EEGUN

In the United State Court on Various Grounds.

The grind of cases in the United States court has begun.

There were several cases filed to-day. The Herbrand company of Fremont asks for an injunction restraining Merrill Bros. of this city from using a certain running gear for vehicles, on which the former claim a patent.

Henry J. Kester, of Holgate, O., asks for $5,000 damages from the Western Union Telegraph company on account of a delayed message. Kester's father died at Bloomville, O., January 4, 1892, and a message announcing the fact did not reach Kester until January 8.

Carter & Co., Niagara Falls, asks for an injunction restraining the Gerber Bros., of Sandusky, from manufacturing a certain patented article.

H. J. Meyers, of Lima, seeks $5,000 from the Lake Erie & Western Railroad company, for being struck and injured by a hand car while crossing the company's track at Lima in a buggy last July.

THE RAILWAY CONDUCTORS

Preparing for the Convention in Toledo—Citizens, Lend a Hand.

The international convention of the Order of Railway Conductors will meet in Toledo about the second week in May of next year. The local division labored to secure the gathering for Toledo, and now it behooves all to lend a hand to make it a succes. In a few days committees will begin the work of preparation for the event. Of course, the first thing neeiful is the financial backing. An estimate has been made that it will take between $2,500 and $3,000 to properly entertain the guests. Toledo division will do more than its share, but their efforts should be generously seconded.

The convention promises to be the largest in the history of the order. It is expected that not less than from 1,000 to 1,500 conductors and their ladies will be here, coming from all parts of the United States, Mexico and Canada, and will remain about 10 days. That Toledo should put its best foot forward goes without saying. The city's reputation for hospitality can be materially added to, and the Bee is certain the committees will for the ensuing year:

The Markets To-day.

Toledo receipts of wheat to-day exceed Wednesday of last week 24,462 bu., and exceed the corresponding Wednesday in 1891 111,468 bu.

Our analysis of wheat receipts above gives receipts at seven western points today 553,816 bu. in excess of the corresponding Wednesday in 1891. The receipts at Minneapolis and Duluth being within 1,697 bu., as much as in 1891.

We call attention to Beerbohm's review, herein, of English and French markets. Russia seems to be offering wheat freely, but don't like the price. Neither do we.

Chicago items of import to-day are that price of wheat advanced because St. Louis wanted some to cover short sales. That is about a fair epitome of the market. Also, telegraph from New York reporting large sales of export, which we heartily rejoice at, but will give it more credit whe n we see the clearances.

Bradstreet's reperot cfof the visible supply makes wheat increased east of the Rockies 4,743,000 bus. On the Pacific coast 989,000 bus. Total increase 5,732,000 bus. Corn decreased 156,000 bus. Oats increased 691,000 bus.

The wheat markets in this country have ruled unsteady within moderate limits today. At Chicago, where the test between the longs and shorts is most active —and that is about all there is of that market just now—the December future has been up to 77 3-8 and down to 76 5-8 before noon. Bradstreet's visible seemed to take the tuck out of the bulls, and made the break, and the close was 76 1-2.

Corn has been lower, but before the close regained part of the loss.

London and Liverpool markets are reported closing lower.

In Toledo there has been quite an increase in the trading for future delivery, and largely for December. Considering the measly and unsettled condition of the market, we have had a good business. Of course prices are lower, but less so than other markets. Opening trades were 1-8@3-8c lower, and at close October was 5-8c, December 1-2c, and May 1-2c lower. October sold at 75 1-2c, and closed at 75c sellers. December at 78 1-4c and closed at 77 7-8c sellers. May at 83 1-2c and closed at 83c sellers.

Cash wheat was more active than yesterday at lower prices. No. 2 soft sold to a feir extent at 75 to 75 1-4 to 74 7-8c, and at close 74 3-4c was bid. In the L. S. sales at 70 to 69 3-4c; No. 4 soft at 62c to 63c; rejected No. 1 at 68 to 65c; No. 2 at 52c; smutty at a range from 50 to 68c, according to the smell, weavily 47 to 64c.

Corn No. 2 at 46 3-4 to 46 1-2c, No. 3 at 46c, No. 4 at 42c, No. 3 yellow at 47 1-2c.

Oats No. 2 at 32 1-2c, No. 3 at 31c, rejected at 26 1-2c. Rye No. 3 at 53c, rejected at 44c.

WAKE UP.

If you wake up in the morning with a bitter or bad taste in your mouth, Languor, Dull Headache, Despondency, Constipation, take Simmons Liver Regulator. It corrects the bilious stomach, sweetens the breath and cleanses the furred tongue. Children as well as adults sometimes eat something that does not digest well, producing Sour Stomach, Heartburn, Restlessness, or Sleeplessness—a good dose of Regulator will give relief. So perfectly harmless is this remedy that it can be taken by the youngest infant or the most delicate person without injury, no matter what the condition of the system may be. It can do no harm if it does no good, but its reputation for 40 years proves it never fails in doing good.

D MOCRATIC Congressional Convention

The Democrats of the Ninth Congressional District of Ohio, comprising the counties of Fulton, Lucas, Ottawa and Wood, are hereby notified to meet in convention in Bowling Green, Wood County, at 10 o'clock a. m.,

ON TUESDAY, OCTOBER 4, 1892,

for the purpose of placing in nomination a candidate for congress to be supported at the November election.

The basis of representation in this convention will be one vote for every one hundred votes, and one for every fraction of 50 and over, cast for James E. Campbell for Governor in 1891. Upon this basis the several counties are entitled to the following vote in convention:

Fulton	17
Lucas	85
Ottawa	29
Wood	46

L. C. COLE, Secretary. W. J. COLBURN, Chairman.

Democrat'c J d cial Convention

The Democratic Judicial Convention for the nomination of a Common Pleas Judge of the First Sub-division of the Fourth Judicial District will be held at Fremont, Ohio, on the 29th day of September, 1892, at 10:30 o'clock a. m. The delegates to said convention are apportioned as follows:

Lucas County	85
Ottawa County	29
Sandusky County	35
Huron County	31
Erie County	38

GEO. B. BOONE, Chairman.
J. M'CRYSTAL, Sec'y.

Where is Bre'r Harrison at now?

Of course Grover Cleveland declares in favor of honest money. Honest money and plenty of it are cardinal democratic virtues.

The republican organs do not like Cleveland's letter. So glad they don't. It was written to inform and instruct the people, not to please a troop of jackasses.

Pilgrimages to Washington to see Benny are to be inaugurated by the republicans, a good thing for the railroads but a mighty unsatisfactory thing for the pilgrims.

The Chicago Herald concludes after investigation that Massachusetts will go republican. Very likely. The Bay State has not been put in many democratic columns of calculation. But what of Illinois, neighbor Herald? Will its big electoral vote be on Israel's side? Tell us of Illinois.

It is pleasing to know that Dana, of the New York Sun, finds something entirely satisfactory in Cleveland's letter of acceptance. The Force bill denunciation strikes Dana as being just right. In this particular instance the Sun shines for all. The Force bill is the issue which involves self government.

The report of the Governor of New Mexico to the government shows much advancement the past year in productive wealth, and gratifying increase in population. New Mexico has long been ready for statehood, but as it is a democratic territory the republican administration keeps it out of the Union—keeps it a territory.

Since the pilgrimage of Gov. Gray to Gray Gables the political prophet says the Indianian will be in Cleveland's cabinet. Such a selection would be wise. The Governor would be an able counsellor of a great President. A good combination, beside being an excellent political move. The Hoosier admires Gray and will work harder in consequence of this probable arrangement.

The government building chaps are still chuckling over their success in turning down Griffin and Hamilton. It is the old fight intensified, and Jim Brown, as usual, proves himself the real leader of republicans. Hereafter the men who want office in that party must consult the boss in advance or receive nothing. The machine runs like greased lightning among the politicians.

Somebody in Columbus is fooling the readers of the Chicago Inter-Ocean by saying democrats of Ohio feel badly because Foraker proposes to take an active part in politics this year. Bless their dear souls, no. The more Foraker talks the more democrats will stick together. He never yet won a democrat over to vote a republican ticket. Too much gall about him. Just put Foraker in the field and every democrat will be at the polls in November. Try it.

The president of the Chicago University suggests the formation of university extension classes for Sunday evening teaching, and asks the churches of Chicago to throw open their doors to promote this object. Many preachers have consented. Sunday secular teaching in Chicago churches, together with Sunday teaching interdicted in the great Exposition storehouse of knowledge is an anomaly that is somewhat amusing and which could be furnished in no other place except Chicago. Everything goes and doesn't go there. It has a going way of its own.

The Mark Lane Express says the demand for imported wheat in England is light and that the foreign market remains dull. Long continued dullness abroad will quickly drop the price in the United States and still further prove that demand regulates supply and fixes value. So it is with all trading commodities. Demand and supply establishes business and values. When the manufacturers of American goods shall have unrestricted access to all the ports of all the world the demand will increase and prices will advance. There is business and profit in freedom, always was and always will be.

The democratic judicial convention will be held in Fremont to-morrow. There should be no hesitancy about nominating a candidate. Select a good candidate and make a straightforward campaign. The counsels of those who urge the indorsement of the republican candidate should be ignored. The motive of such advice is good enough because they think it will help Judge Scribner, but they are mistaken. The republicans are not generous enough this year to reciprocate in these matters. They threw down the gauntlet of contest early in the campaign. Democrats should accept the issue, nominate a clean-cut, able attorney for common pleas judge and then elect him. It can be done and will be done if democrats do their duty.

"PROTECTION MUST COME."

This is a head line in a republican newspaper of consequence in Chicago, and refers to the position assumed by some English statesmen since the McKinley law took effect.

Just for the sake of argument, admit all that the organs say about protection—all that it does to break down the trade of other countries, England, especially, and all that it does to restrict American trade for American people—what will be done when England puts a protective trade wall all around the little island and around all the colonies? If protection discriminates against other nations and in favor of the one that makes the most stringent protective regulations, how long do these high taxers suppose conditions will last when other nations follow suit? It will be a case of borrowing from Peter to pay Paul, of lifting oneself by his bootstraps.

The protective tariff idea is selfish, and nothing but selfishness actuates any promoter of the un-American idea, yet so pig headed and obtuse are these England haters that they find cause for gleeful expression in the suggestion of protection in England. Rather should they put on sack cloth and ashes of remorse that England is driven to self protection by the American protective notion, for so sure as American protection cripples English trade, English protection will cripple American trade. The two countries cannot get rich fighting each other that way.

The protectionist seldom stops to reason. He throws the glamour of protection over the American workman and pockets the profits. He isn't obliged to reason so long as his coffers are filled. But here is danger ahead for the fat and prosperous monopolist. His party organs are chuckling over other nations adopting the American methods. After awhile, when every nation is protected, none will be protected, save at home, and home trade never enlarges factories. A pent up Utica will soon starve out. The organs should consult among themselves and say something consistent with their own teachings.

THE COLUMBIAN CONCERT

And Cantata an Unprecedented Success.

A Large Audience Listened With Delight

To the Faultless Rendition and Perfect Interpretation of the Beautiful and Difficult Musical Numbers.

The Columbian concert, an event to which Toledo people have been looking forward for weeks, was given by the Toledo Maennerchor at Wheeler's last evening, and was listened to with breathless interest and delight by a large and cultured audience.

Much was expected of this concert, and the expectations were more than fulfilled; and instead of retiring to their homes in a critical mood, as is often the case where much has been promised and required, the audience last evening dispersed, congratulating themselves on having so fine an organization as the Toledo Maennerchor in their midst and on having been privileged to listen to one of the finest musical compositions of the age, conducted by one of the most distinguished composers.

The program for the evening, which was rendered in a faultless manner, leaving no opportunity for adverse criticism, was as follows:

Part I.

Overture, "Freschuets," C. M. von Weber.

(a) Liebeszauber, Goepfart; (b) Thursday, Malloy, Mr. F. Seubert.

Ballade, Chopin, Miss Anna Bernn.

(a) Morgan muss ich fort von heir, Volksleid; (b) Evening Serenade, Pache, Toledo Maennerchor.

One Spring Morning, Ethelbert Nevin, Miss Elizabeth Doolittle.

Part II.

Columbus, "Cantate," conducted by the composer, H. Mohr, prize composition, dedicated to the Toledo Maennerchor and its conductor, Mr. Jos. Wylli; introduction, "Bolero," orchestra; (a) Matrosenchor, Sailors' chorus; (b) Wellenspiel, Wave Play; (c) Im unendlichen Ozean, In Boundless Ocean; (d) Gebte, Prayer; (e) Land; (f) Die neue Welt, the New World. Orchestra; Toledo Maennerchor; soprano solo, Miss Elizabeth S. Doolittle; tenor solo, Mr. Jos. Wylli; baritone solo, Mr. F. Seubert.

Star Spangled Banner, Toledo Maennerchor and orchestra.

Mr. Joseph Wylli conducted the first part of the program, with the assistance of Prof. Younk's orchestra, of Detroit.

The first number, given by Mr. von Weber, was one of the best, and received enthusiastic applause, as did also the solos given by Mr. Seubert, whose fine baritone voice has often delighted Toledo audiences.

Miss Bernn's rendition of a difficult number, was perfect, and she was repeatedly encored.

Miss Elizabeth Doolittle gave the fifth number, "One Spring Morning," and as usual, the audience went wild, and insisted on an encore, to which she kindly responded.

This closed the first part, and the cantata, Columbus, dedicated to the Toledo Maennerchor, was next given, under the direction of its composer, Prof. Mohr, of the Philadelphia conservatory of music.

The soloists were Mr. Seubert, Mr. Wylli and Miss Doolittle, and their work was excellent, winning plaudits innumerable from the appreciative auditors.

The concert closed with America's national hymn, which was sung by the Maennerchor, with orchestral accompaniment.

Prof. Mohr was serenaded at the Hotel Madison after the entertainment.

On all sides the Columbian concert is conceded to be the musical event of the season, and it is hoped that the Maennerchor may repeat it in the near future.

BOWLING GREEN.

A Big Crowd at the Opening of the Fair.

Bowling Green, Sept. 28.—(Special.)—A large crowd witnessed the opening of the Wood county fair. The entries have nearly all filled and there is every prospect of a successful week.

THE BROER HEARING

Is Still On At the Probate Court.

Summary of the Testimony Taken Yesterday Afternoon—Mr. Broer Asked to Procure His Books.

At 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon the Broer examination in probate court was resumed.

It will be remembered that the court sent Mr. Broer home to get his books.

Mr. Broer reported that he was unable to find the little memorandum book in which he testified to have kept a record of his outside speculations.

Mr. Read wanted to know if Mr. Broer could remember the dates on which he gave diamonds to Nichols to spout for cash, to which he replied that he could not.

Mr. Read inquired next if he could remember the last lot of diamonds turned over to Nichols. He could not remember the day, but it was in the month of July last.

Q.—"How many stones did you give him the last time?" inquired Mr. Read.
A.—"Nine."
Q.—"Unset?"
A.—"Yes."
Q.—"Did you ever give him set stones?"
A.—"Sometimes."
Q.—"On the last time did he return the cash to you on the same day?"
A.—"Yes."
Q.—"How did he tell you he disposed of the goods?"
A.—"He said he had found a man with plenty of money who was willing to put up the money for 60 or 90 days."
Q.—"Have you ever made an effort to redeem them?"
A.—"No, I have not had the means."
Q.—"Could you take them up if you had the money?"
A.—"I think I could."
Q.—"Then the stones must be in Toledo?"
A.—"I suppose so, because he obtained the money the same day."
Q.—"Who did he sell them to?"
A.—"I do not know."
Q.—"You do not know?"
A.—"No, sir."
Q.—"Are you sure?"
A.—"Yes, sir."
Q.—"Now, as a matter of fact, did not Nichols tell you who he sold the goods to?"
A—"He did not. The only thing I know is that it was some railroad man and he met him at the Boody house."

In response to questions, Mr. Broer said that Nichols was the only man who sold any goods for him; that he never took any stock for any purpose other than the three patents, the mortgage securities and to raise cash.

"How much have you taken out of the stock since January, 1892, to invest in patents?" said Mr. Read.
A.—"I took out the full amount to pay for the sheet delivered about $15,000."
Q.—"How much did you take out to pay for the road cart?"
A.—"I received that in the trade."
Q.—"How much for the cuff fastener?"
A.—"That was paid for at that time."
Q.—"How much for the bicycle?"
A.—$2,500."
Q.—"How much for the mortgages?"
A.—"3,650."
Q.—"How much did you give Nichols to sell?"
A.—"Between $7,000 and $8,000 worth."
Q.—"How much cash did you realize on what you gave Nichols?"
A.—"About $5,000."
Q.—"How long had you had the diamonds in stock that you gave Nichols in July?"
A.—"Fourteen days or three weeks."
Q.—"You had purchased these in that time?"
A.—"Yes."
Q—"On what time did you purchase these goods?"
A.—"Six to eight months."
Q.—"Some 12 months?"
A.—"None on 12 months."
Q.—"Did you not give Ernest Adler a note for 12 months for diamonds?"
A.—"Yes, sir."
Q.—"Those diamonds you gave to Nichols were a part of them, then?"
A.—"I do not know."
Q.—"Did you give Nichols Ernest Adler's diamonds at any time?"
A.—"I do not know."
Q.—"Did you give him diamonds that had been paid for?"
A.—"I don't know."
Q.—"Did you have in July a single diamond that was paid for?"
A.—"I have some now that are paid for."

Mr. Read then questioned him as to the value of the diamonds in the present stock. Mr. Broer stated he had several worth $45 each, and that there was $1,000 worth of loose diamonds in the stock when it was turned over to Mr. Ketcham.

The examination closed at this point, and the court enjoined Mr. Broer to make a thorough search for the private book, and any other book or paper that would throw any light on the examination. The court then adjourned until 2 p. m. to-day.

THE OBJECTS,

Aims and Achievements of the Y. M. C. A.

What the Association Is Accomplishing in Toledo—A Praiseworthy Cause, Deserving of Support.

Of late Toledo people have heard a great deal about the Young Women's Christian Association and yet few know much of the inner workings of that association. The object of this article is to clear up, to some extent, the confused state of mind.

The organization here is a member of the international—in fact of a world organization. While the work is divided in interest and importance between two branches—the college and the city work—here in Toledo, of course, we are more interested in the work in cities.

Once upon a time, when our grandmothers were young women, they stayed at home, knitting, weaving and the like, but nineteenth century ingenuity has largely taken away that field of labor and now our girls find it pleasant as well as profitable to go out into more public fields of labor; and a worthy move it is, too, for many are the families in which the daughter of the house is a telling force as a bread-winner. Nor is it possible for all to find work at their homes, but leaving friends and relatives they must try their fortunes in a city, alone and unfriended.

But just here the Young Women's Christian Association seeks the young woman or welcomes her to its home (if she will but find it), and not alone is it content to be helpful to her physically but mental development and culture is sought for in every direction. The real object of the association being the development of the all-round nature of young women.

To meet her physical needs there is opened a school of physical culture. Here in Toledo this is in charge of Miss Carrie Berry Phelps, who conducts at her own gymnasium (37 Michigan street) an advanced class on Wednesday and Saturday nights, and a beginner's class on Monday and Friday nights. These classes open this week and the year's course consists of two terms of ten weeks each, two lessons a week, with a vacation of six weeks during the holiday season.

To meet her social needs, in the parlors of the association building, at 620 Madison street (near Erie) on the first Friday evening of each month a reception is tendered to the members and friends and then at various times little social gatherings are held, while every day at that place a girl meets more congenial and helpful associates than she might otherwise in three years life alone in the city.

To meet her business nature, there is the "Noon Rest," that is—the building open from 11 o'clock until 2 daily especially for the business girls. Here they may come for their noon hour, read papers and magazines, lie down and rest or have use of the piano, while during the same hour she can bring and eat her lunch here in the dining-room entirely free of charge or she can buy as simple a lunch as she wants.

An earnest effort is made to keep this from resembling a restaurant, for it means to be a noon home for each girl and, therefore, she walks in at the front door (no ringing) takes off her wraps and then goes down to lunch as at her own home.

To meet her intellectual wants, reading circles, lectures, circulating library, all these are used as means. Then, too, classes will be formed in any study for which there is sufficient desire and need to warrant having special teachers.

Then, to meet her spiritual needs: of the means of helpfulness, the atmosphere of Christian love and fellowship permeating the building is not the least. Then on Sunday afternoon gospel meetings are held regularly at 5 o'clock. These meetings are well attended and are inspiring in spiritual blessings. On Tuesday night a general Bible class has been organized for the scientific study of the Word and then there are two Bible training classes besides.

The association here has been wonderfully blessed, although it is comparatively new. Its membership is over two hundred and increasing rapidly. Its incorporation papers have quite recently been completed.

The association work is carried on by a board of the city (for the movement is interdenominational). The board, however, act largely through the general secretary, who is their executive officer and has a general oversight of all departments of the association. Miss Agnes G. Hill, our general secretary, has recently come here from the west and she is very ably assisted by Miss Minnie B. Smith, a Toledo young lady.

The building of this association is a three-story brick house (and basement) at 620 Madison street. The first floor is given up to parlors and reading rooms. On the second floor a room has been fitted up by the young women of the association for the general secretary and besides this there are five rooms rented out to deserving young women or kept to give temporary shelter to a needy one. In the basement is the dining room and kitchen. The house keeping department is in charge of Mrs. James Adams.

The support of the institution is kept up, partially by the constantly increasing membership and partly by the subscription of friends and helpers. The membership is of three kinds: The regular membership, $1; the sustaining membership, $5; the full membership, admitting one to a year's physiculture or any other special class, $5.

The $1 membership is called active or associate, as the person is or is not a member of an evangelical church. The privileges are the same to each, except that the active is the voting or office holding membership.

It is of great advantage to every woman who is young in heart to be a member of this organization and get the privileges of the noon rest, are open to all business young women.

So praiseworthy an object deserves the practical aid of all good people.

JUDGE SALA DECIDES

The Madge Cases in Police Court,

Fining One and Discharging the Other—Lengthy Decision—A Pace for the Other Cases.

The cases against S. D. Madge and his wife Helena, who have heretofore been tried on the charge of violating specific orders from the health board, were decided by Judge Sala this morning.

The health board ordered Mr. Madge and his wife to tear down the wooden buildings owned by them at Nos. 811, 813, 815 and 817 Summit street. They neglected to comply with the order and on Saturday Health Officer Fisher had a gang of men demolish the buildings and practically raze them to the ground.

That same afternoon Madge and his wife were placed on trial for disobeying the health officer's orders. Their defense was that the health officer had exceeded his authority and that the structures were neither a nuisance nor a menance to the health of the city. The taking of evidence was conducted Monday afternoon and a decision reserved until to-day in order that the court might have time to examine the law on the subject.

After the minor cases had been disposed of this morning, Judge Sala said he was ready to announce his decision in these cases. He then started out on a long talk to the half dozen people who remained in the court room, and after consuming two hours in citing cases in the courts of Alabama, Louisiana, Alaska and the Indian territory he finally came to the conclusion that Mr. Madge should be discharged, but that Mrs. Madge should pay a fine of $10 and the costs. The fine, however, he remitted.

In view of this decision it is probable that other parties who were also arrested for similar violations will likewise be convicted. The decision in this case has no bearing whatever on the action Madge has instituted against the city for damages.

THE DIFFERENCE

In the Cost of Protection Here and Abroad.

A plausible argument for protection is based upon the alleged difference in the cost of production here and in parts of the old world. But this difference, if there be any, cannot be measured by the difference in wages here and in other countries. What is called pauper labor cannot begin to compete, in skill and rapidity of execution, with the labor of American citizens. Garfield, I think it was—some leading republican I well remember—once said that the greater speed and efficiency of laborers in our country made up, in the cost of production, for the difference in wages, here and in other countries. Mr. Hurd, some years ago, instanced the case of a manufacturer of gunny bags in Brooklyn, N. Y., who paid liberal wages, and yet was able successfully to compete with manufacturers in India who paid their employes but a few cents per day.

Now, it sounds very well to say, Let us have a tariff on foreign goods, just large enough to equalize the difference between wages here and in foreign countries. But when we come to examine the McKinley bill, we find that, in a great many instances, the tariff tax is very much in excess of the alleged difference in the price of labor, here and abroad. Indeed, this idea of making the percentage of duties a sum exactly equal to the percentage of difference between home and foreign labor, is plainly an afterthought. It was not in the minds of the framers of the tariff bill, or if it was, it was there to no practical purpose. If it had been, such monstrosities as appear in it would never have been enacted.

An Insurance Company in Court.

The Central Ohio Insurance company of Toledo filed suit in common pleas court yesterday against the Mutual Fire association of Toledo setting up that judgment had been recovered in justice court which had been wholly unsatisfied. That the defendant is insolvent and requested that a receiver be appointed. The court appointed Chas. E. Chittenden as receiver.

More Emphatic than Ever.

Housekeepers who have been induced to try some new brand of baking powder in place of the Royal, "just for a change," become more emphatic than ever in their praise of the Royal.

The mail frequently brings over a thousand letters a day commending the great qualities of the Royal Baking Powder from patrons in every part of the world, many of whom have used it for over a quarter of a century without a single failure. It never loses strength. The last teaspoonful in a can is as good as the first.

AMUSEMENTS.

"Boccaccio" by the Wilburs Last Night.

Wonderland As Popular As Ever—The Attractions for Next Week.

The Wilbur Opera company presented Boccaccio at the People's theater last evening with Dorothy Morton in the title role. The part of the dashing and eccentric author was played by this clever little lady in a manner that would do great credit to even older stars and it is safe to predict that Miss Morton has a brilliant future before her.

Kohnle, Tre Denick and Drew made a great trio of comedians and, on the whole, the opera was given in a capable manner. Shaw and Brown, the "Whistling Coon," are also proving great cards.

The bill for to-night is Clover.

Wonderland

Seems to grow more popular every day and there is now no doubt of its success. There are some splendid attractions for the children this week and the place is full of surprises. Prof. Krieger is proving himself a wonder, for he is not only a marvelously adept magician, but he is also a mesmerist, ventriloquist and Punch and Judy artist.

The Pay Train.

For next week at the People's the attraction announced is the charming little artiste, Florence Bindley, in her most successful drama, The Pay Train. The play was produced here last season and scored a success. Encouraged by the financial success of last season the managers have spent a great deal of money on the production this season and they now claim it is the most elaborate and realistic production of the age.

The company supporting Miss Bindley has also been strengthened and contains such artists as Maggie Fielding, the great celebrated artiste, and W. J. Sully, the eminent Irish comedian.

Among the most prominent effects may be mentioned the great railroad scene, the terrific boiler explosion and wreck of the incline plane truck which dashes from the dome of the theater to the footlights with a man in the car. Incidental to the piece Miss Bindley will introduce her songs, dances and solos on the autoharp, xylaphone and goblets, the latter she introduces by request of the public, as in this specialty she stands peerless and alone.

Janauschek Coming.

The announcement of the Janauschek engagement at Wheeler's, Monday, October 3, will no doubt be welcome news to the theatrical patrons of this city. Nothing can be said in favor of this famous tragic queen that has not already been said. No words of praise can be penned that have not in some instance been used. It would be like an oft-told tale of love. She is simply our most wonderful tragedienne, and has been for many years, and is to this present day without a rival. Her grand performances of Macbeth, Meg Merriles, Bleak House, etc., are all well remembered; this time she will be seen in Lady Macbeth, her best work. The supporting company is first-class and includes Edmund K. Collier, who has been identified with legitimate productions for many years.

Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Moore gave a progressive pedro party last evening in honor of Miss Clara Westcott, of Lansing, Mich. Dainty refreshments were served and the occasion was highly enjoyable.

After the wedding breakfast at the residence of Mr. Nickolson, West Toledo, yesterday, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jones left for their future home in Fort Wayne. The festivities were delightful. Music and dancing were indulged in until a late hour by the guests. The old custom of throwing rice and the proverbial old shoe after the departing couple was successfully performed.

Last evening about 40 of the friends of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bobst took the family residence on Maplewood avenue, by storm, and the inmates, being surprised, surrendered unconditionally, and merrymaking was soon in full progress. The invaders remindede Mrs. Bobst that it was the evening of the day of her forty-ninth anniversary, and a proper celebration of the event was deemed necessary. The time was devoted to social pleasure, a delightful lunch being served at 11.

The J. S. club was entertained by Miss Emma King, of Oak Hill, last evening. The first part of the evening was allotted to business. Miss Miller and Mr. Frank Eurich gave much pleasure by their piano solos. Light refreshments were served and the occasion was one of enjoyment. Among the guests were the Misses Mertie and Carrie Miller, Lura Whitney, Sybil Byrkit, Tanner, Schon, and Kimball and Messrs. Eurich, Rakestraw, Quine, Whitney, Mills, Bishop and Tanner. The next meeting will be held at Miss Mertie Miller's, of Milburn avenue.

THE TOLEDO MAENNERCHOR.

Requested to Repeat the Entertainment of Last Night.

President Sussman, of the Toledo Maennerchor, has received the following highly complimentary communication from His Honor, the mayor:

Mr. Sussman, President of the Toledo Maennerchor.

Dear Sir: The concert given by the T. M. C. last night was of such a character and so well rendered that I respectfully invite you to repeat the same on Columbia Day celebration in Toledo, October 21, 1892. Hoping to hear a favorable reply, I am very truly yours,

V. J. EMMICK, Mayor.

The president has replied that the Maennerchor would be pleased to accept, and will repeat the concert on that occasion.

AUBURNDALE ANNEXATION

Goes Over for Seventy Days—And Then it May Not Go Through.

The Auburndale annexation matter was taken up for discussion at a meeting of the county commissioners this morning. Solicitor Read represented the city and E. M. Beard the contesting property owners.

Before the question was taken up it was discovered that there had been an error in the publication of the notice, and that re-advertisement would be necessary, incurring a delay of 60 days.

The commissioners object to the zig-zag line dividing the new territory as proposed from the county. In one place it cuts a number of lots in two, leaving a part in the city and a part in the county.

Mr. Read suggested that the matter be continued for 70 days; that the commissioners proceed with the legal notice, and before the time for the council to take final action decide upon something definite. If they refused to indorse the survey he said it would take another year to go over the entire legislation again. If the survey as submitted was indorsed it could be put through and then any amendments could be made afterwards, as necessary, and save a great deal of time. A motion prevailed to continue the hearing for 70 days.

SERIOUSLY INJURED.

A KNOT OF HAIR.

She has a knot of russet hair;
It seems a simple thing to wear
Through years, despite of fashion's check,
The same deep coil about the neck;
But there it twined
When first I knew her,
And learned with passion to pursue her,
And, if she changed it, to my mind
She were a creature of new kind.

On others she may flash the wise,
Strong light of apprehending eyes,
And make who fronts her beauty great
With hopes that awe and stimulate.
The happy lot
Be mine to follow
These threads through lovely curve and hollow,
And muse a lifetime how they got
Into that wild, mysterious knot.

Oh, first of women who hast laid
Magnetic glory on a braid!
In others' tresses we may mark
If they be silken, blonde, or dark;
But thine we praise,
And dare not feel them;
Not Hermes, god of theft, dare steal them—
It is enough for eye to gaze
Upon their vivifying maze.

SANDY MACNAB'S VISION

"Hoo's a' wi' ye?" said Sandy MacNab, as I entered the little shoe shop on Second avenue. MacNab's shop, I must explain, is a loadstone, not only to me but to a good many others who swear by Burns and Kit North, and like to discuss love, religion, philosophy and other high affairs in congenial company. "A's weel wi' me, Sandy," I replied, "an hoo's yersel'?"

"I'm yet i' the lan' o' leevin', thank ye for speirin'," said Sandy, dolefully, "but I'm thinkin' I s'all no' be lang wi' ye."

"Oh, Sandy, how did you get that notion?"

"Do ye ken, lad," said Sandy, dropping his voice, "I hae seen an awfu' veesion i' my sleep."

"Is that all?" said I.

"It's no' that," said Sandy, testily, "whusky is as mild as coo's milk till a Scot, i' moderation ye ken; happen a yill or twa; an' o haggis I've had nor bit nor soop these mony days, mair's the peety. Happen ye'll no' ken that the MacNabs were aye famed for second sicht? 'Twas a MacNab wha foretellit the dounfa, o' Prince Charlie when he cam' owre the border—a MacNab an' my ain forbear—an' the truth was no' sae weel likit. 'Tak' that for bearin' auld wives' tales,' said a Mac Gregor o' Glenfyle, an' he dichtet the MacNab i' the chaps wi' a gross beef bane at denner."

"'Tis like daft men to scunner the truth,' said the MacNab, as he streekit the gravy frae his e'en. His han' was at his hilt, so soon as he'd twice blinkit, and there was a bonny fecht till they pu'd them apart. But it a' came' oot preceesely as the MacNab foretellit. My ain graunmither, Meg Colquhoon o' the east side, was wise i' cantrips an' prophecies, an' ne'er spaed aught that cam' no' to pass. She was a wonnerfu' woman, was Meg; wonnerfu'!"

"But how about your dream, Sandy?"

"Muckle haste mak's waste," said Sandy, in displeasure. "Noo, I s' all na tell ye o' Meg's Haggis Ghaist. A' body i' Scotland kens the Haggis Ghaist. Houts! Mon! Ye mind me o' Rab Elliott, the wabster, wha leevit at Linthingow. Rab was aye sae gleg at spierin' an spyin', Ane cudna gi' the speech o' an instant, but Rab wad oot wi' his wha' and why an' what like was't? Yet Rab cam' till nae guid en' wi' a' his spierin', but fa'd doun a scar an' fand oot a' the meesteries o' the ither warl'. He wadna hae fall'n if he hadna been peepin' owre to spy oot an' laddie who cam' to haud tryst below."

"I suppose Rob, the weaver, if he were here, would be unmannerly enough to ask you all manner of questions about your dream?" said I.

Mr. MacNab eyed me for a moment, but presently resumed: "I was tellin' ye a' aboot it. I thocht I was in Auld Reekie, as we ca' Edinboro, yet 'twas not mysel' but my freed speerit walkin' i' the streets unno leed. West I went by Corstorphine an' Kirkliston till Linlithgow. 'Tis a weary way, but the speerit o' Sandy MacNab passed it at a thocht."

At this point in the recital a tall young man entered the shop, unnoticed by Mr. MacNab, who went on with his story.

"An' sae till auld Sil Michael's kirk it cam' an' oot intil the kirkyard an' there upo' a grave my mortal e'en hadna beheld was a stane wi' these words carved in't:

Alexander MacNab.

Born in Linlithgow
Aug. 4, 1831.
Died in New York
Aug. 4, 1891.

A Good Man Gone Home.

Ah! I saw them plain as I see ye this meenit, ye misdoonin' cullant. This like was'," and seizing his blacking brush and a scrap of brown paper, Mr. MacNab drew a rude outline of a tombstone and scrawled upon it quaint characters:

"I mindit weel the day," he continued, in a low tone, "as' 'twas the date o' my birth, sixty years agone. Noo, isna that an eldritch warnin' frae Heaven till a MacNab, wha a'body kens is giftit to spea oot the future?"

Here the young man at the door came forward with an expression of deep concern upon his face.

"Uncle," said he, "I am very, very sorry to see you looking so badly. I have long thought that your strength was failing, but never have considered it wise to speak of it before. To-day you look as if you were nearer your long home than I had supposed. I trust you are prepared to go when the summons comes."

The change that came over the old man's features was magical. He dropped the shoe he held in one hand and stood up erect with all the majesty of his five feet four.

"Haud yer leein' tongue," he shouted at the top of his voice. "Ye unmannerly loon. Dinna ye ken that a MacNab is no' to be driven till his grave by ony clishmaclavers an' whigmaleeries o' a blinkin' dolt o' an empty headit MacGowan? Twenty times, if ance, hae I tellit my sister, Jane, that if she weddit that bletherin' MacGowan, she'd be the mither o' fules. I'se haud your clavers light as a feather. I'm no' sic an auld mon yet that I canna pit doun upo' his hurdies ony ill-bred haverel o' a MacGowan that e'er was moon struck, be he my ain nevvew, mair shame to me."

"But, indeed, uncle you're looking very poorly," said young MacGowan, with a twinkle in his eye.

The old man almost foamed at the mouth in his rage. "Dinna stan' there wi' the leuk of a sick kitlin' upon' yer daft face," he shouted. "I'se haud ye fine mellin' wi' yer betters, ye girnin', glin-glaikit gilpie," and with his voice fairly rising to a shriek the old man snatched his cobbler's knife from the bench and made a wild dash for young MacGowan, but that agile gentleman was out of the store like a flash.

MacNab gazed up the street a moment, and then came slowly back and laid the knife down. Then he looked at me with an air of unconcern, and said as placidly as if his vision had never been: "What think ye o' the Briggs case, my lad? Is the puir professor body i' your opeenion, a heretic to be burned, or a martyr to be laudit till the skies?—Owen Langdon in N. Y. Recorder.

EMBARRASSMENT OF RICHES.

A Policeman Who Captured More Than He Wanted.

"What was the toughest experience you had when you were a patrolman?" was asked the other day of a police sergeant, who won his rank by grit and attention to duty.

"Well, it would be hard to tell," he answered, "I had so many narrow escapes and was in so many tight places. The twentieth precinct was the worst command I was in, with the 'Tenth avenue gang,' the 'Modocs,' the 'Lava Beds,' 'Battle Row,' and 'Hell's Kitchen.' You were always on the defensive and carried your life in your hand if you made the streets safe for decent people. If you chose to skulk and let the hoodlums have their own way, you were a good fellow, and never wanted for a cigar or a drink, and I have heard that some officers profited to a greater extent by being discreetly deaf, dumb and blind.

"I didn't go there for that, and had a tough time of it until I had used my revolver and 'winged' a couple of rascals.

"But I had a close call one night, and I laugh about it yet when I think of it. I was in Twenty-ninth street, near the river, and hid when I saw two fellows sneaking along with something which turned out to be a keg of lager which they had stolen. When the proper time came, I had one hand on the shorter of the thieves, and the other grasped my night stick. The keg, of course, fell to the ground. The other chief took in the situation, and, coming toward the keg, said, using language that would have made a green policeman's flesh creep: 'I'm going to drink some of that lager anyhow,' and made an attempt to seize the keg. I knew him and said quietly:

"'No, you won't, Billy. You'll just leave it there, and if you'll take my advice you'll clear out, as you're spotted and may get behind the bars, like your friend here.'

The fellow slunk away to whoop up the neighborhood, leaving me with my prisoner and the keg. I was in a quandary. I was bound to have the keg as evidence. If I put it anywhere the comrades of the thieves would either commit a burglary to get it or terrorize its custodian into giving it up. I could not use either hand. One I wanted for the prisoner and the other for my club and perhaps for my pistol.

"So I began marching east, kicking the keg before me and hauling the thief by the collar. It was not long before his confederate rallied a mob to jeer me and, if possible, to rescue the man I had arrested. But I had the reputation of being a 'shooter,' and they did not touch me. When I got to Tenth avenue, in spite of the hour, the mob and spectators numbered 500 or 600. Half of them were in sympathy with the thieves of the precinct. I was worn out with kicking the keg and holding the prisoner and began to rap alarms. The mob saw that their chances of freeing the thief were disappearing, and they closed up, saying, 'Kill him;' 'Lay him out.'

"No response came to my rap and I had to do something desperate or lose my prisoner and get hurt. So, allowing the thong of my club to slip over my wrist, I made a dash for my pistol pocket, caught the handle, and in another instant I had the weapon leveled breast high at the nearest to me, and I said:

"'Come on, gentlemen, now's your chance to see some fun.'

"But the mob didn't appreciate such wit and broke into retreat, just as officers on adjoining posts came at the double quick to help me take the thief and the keg to the station house. I 'put the thief away' for some time, for I took care to make the case against him as strong as possible."—New York Times.

WATCH CASES AND DIALS.

Interesting Process of Manufacture—Transferring the Case Designs.

The process of making gold watch cases is interesting. The 14-karat cases which are the most popular are made of gold to which an alloy of copper and silver has been added. A flame of gas quickly reduces the metal to a liquid.

This is poured into bar moulds of various sizes, and when it has hardened the metal is placed under ponderous rolls and reduced to the desired thickness. One of the machines will reduce a bar of gold into a sheet one-thousandth of an inch thick.

The sheets are then sent to the turners who shape the cases. Jointers then solder the parts together and add the receptacles for the springs, which are inserted by workmen who are known as springers. If the case is to contain a decoration in relief, the design is then soldered on, and the case is delivered to the engraver.

Engraving cases frequently adds one-third to their cost. Last of all the cases are sent to the polisher, and when they leave his hands they are ready for the market.

The making of watch dials is also interesting. Those made by machinery are rapidly produced. A steel plate is first engraved with the desired figures and lines.

By means of a wax matrix a copy of this plate is taken and electrotyped. The pigment is placed on the electro plate and a thin coat of collodion is placed over it, being distributed by centrifugal force.

A sheet of paper placed on the collodion before it dries, adheres, and when removed withdraws the collodion and the pigment, thus leaving a negative on the paper.

This paper is then placed on a blank watch dial, and after slowly pressed into it is [illegible] a the dial is placed in a furnace. The heat destroys the paper and the collodion penetrates the enamel of the dial, producing on it the design. In this manner the most intricate designs are transferred.—Jewelers' Weekly.

Capital and labor could get on well enough together if there were not so many men trying to get capital without labor.—Texas Siftings.

After 15 years of failure the vines at Egg Harbor City, N. J., are heavily laden with grapes, and a good year of wine making is expected.

The Prussian minister of education has issued instructions that female teachers appointed by the department must give up their positions if they get married.

A Toronto paper, in publishing an obituary, remarked in the tone of one making a discovery, that "his death was to be expected in the ordinary course of nature."

At Liege about 40,000 persons are employed in the manufacture of arms. During recent years it is said that the productions of Liege have diminished in prestige.

A rapidly revolving brush which gets its motive power through a flexible tube attached to a small electric motor has been found to operate practically in the grooming of horses.

Crematory experts say that it is impossible to cremate a set of false teeth. Four thousand degrees of heat have been turned onto the artificial grinders without affecting them in the least.

The cost of raw material in a watch is infinitesimal; 99.99 per cent. of the cost of production is paid to labor. Five cents worth of steel wrought into hair springs would be worth $150,000.

A portable sun dial is not an uncommon object in Spanish shops, and it is still in current use in Spain. At Burgos no less than three different kinds are offered for sale, at prices varying from 9 to 17 cents.

The healthiest trade is said to be that of a waller, a man who attends to the pans in salt works. If he falls in he dies, but while he lives he is free from cholera, small-pox, scarlet fever and probably influenza.

In Egypt the smallest marks of a knife on a piece of wood remain at the close of 2,000 years as distinct as on the day they were cut, and you can see after twice that interval where a chisel slipped upon a block of stone.

For the last three years Rosa Bonheur has been engaged on the largest animal picture ever painted. It represents 10 horses of full size trotting over a thrashing floor, and the artist has already refused $60,000 for it.

In 1518 a battle was fought near Milan, in Italy, and so perfect was the armor of both armies that, though the conflict raged from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m., no one on either side was either killed or wounded, though one man broke his collar-bone by falling off his horse.

A newspaper man tells how a green young reporter sent to interview George William Curtis was encouraged by the latter's cordial greeting, "Ah, then you and I belong to the same profession." He was self-collected enough to reply: "Yes, Mr. Curtis, you are at one end of it and I am at the other."

A woman living in the suburbs of Hartford, Conn., was aroused by a noise at the window the other evening, and dimly saw a man's face peering in through the blind. She silently crept out of bed and, reaching the window, suddenly popped up and shouted "Boo!" The would-be burglar dropped as though shot and fled.

Wilson Barrett's new romantic drama, "Pharoah," is soon to be produced at Leeds, England, on a scale of grand magnificence, with costumes and stage apparatus on which a fortune has been spent. As Mr. Barrett is about to visit America it is likely that New York play-goers will soon have their eyes dazzled by all this splendor.

There are now only 168 members of the once powerful tribe of Peoria Indians. Their hereditary chief is Frank Beaver, of Seneca, Mo., an enlightened and civilized red man. It is one of the anomalies of fate that while the tribe has degenerated its namesake city in Illinois has grown rich and powerful in producing the whisky that has been the cause of many an Indian's downfall.

In an investigation of the decay of rubber, Mr. W. Thompson has found that copper salts, which are sometimes even used for dyeing rubber goods black, have a very injurious effect. Metallic copper causes oxidation and hardening of rubber in contact with it. Oils containing traces of copper quickly destroy rubber, and linseed oil contains acid that rots rubber cloth. Only castor oil, in fact, is harmless.

Says the Christian Secretary, of Hartford: "The great enemy of a proper observance of the Sabbath is not the saloon, great as that is. It is the bicycle. It is our opinion that the bicycle causes more young men to neglect church and Sunday school than almost anything else. Yet it would not be fair on this account to condemn the bicycle, for doubtless many people have been benefited by it. The evil lies in using it for improper purposes, and this is true of many other things."

One of the street car conductors in Oakland, Cal., Mr. A. F. Parker, possesses two medals awarded him for bravery on the battle-field—one the gift of the queen and the other of the khedive of Egypt. He is a survivor of Wolseley's expedition for the relief of Gordon and took part in the terrible march across the desert of Khartoum—the march which won Bismarck's highest commendation. Parker was a corporal in the Sixth dragoons and fought at Abu-Klea and Mettanneh. He says that the last words of the bold Lord Beresford when he fell at Abu-Klea were, as he pointed to a Gatling gun: "Turn that handle lively and we'll make the devils dance."

One of the most curious of the many natural barometers consists of a half-pint glass full of water, a piece of muslin and a leech. The leech must be put in the water and the muslin tied over the top of the glass, so that the creature cannot get out again. When fine weather is to be the order of the day, the leech will remain at the bottom of the water, coiled up in spiral shape, and perfectly motionless. If rain is to be expected, it will creep to the top of the glass, and remain there until there is a likelihood of more settled weather. If there is to be a storm of wind, the little animal will contort itself violently and squirm about. For some days before thunder it will keep out of the water almost all the time, and will occasionally move its body in convulsive fashion. For frosty weather it behaves in the same manner as for fine, and it foretells snow in the same manner as it does rain.

Why is it that Strictly Pure White Lead is the best paint?

Because it will outlast all other Paints, make a handsomer finish, give better protection to the wood, and the first cost will be less.

If a color other than white is wanted, tint the paint with the National Lead Co.'s

Pure White Lead Tinting Colors.

These colors are sold in small cans, one pound being sufficient to tint twenty-five pounds of strictly pure White Lead to the desired shade.

Be Careful

to use only old and well-known brands of white lead. The market is flooded with adulterated and "so-called" white leads. The following brands are always strictly pure and are established by the test of years:

ANCHOR (Cincinnati)
ARMSTRONG & McKELVY (Pittsburgh)
BEYMER-BAUMAN (Pittsburgh)
COLLIER (St. Louis)
CORNELL (Buffalo)
DAVIS-CHAMBERS (Pittsburgh)
ECKSTEIN (Cincinnati)
FAHNESTOCK (Pittsburgh)
MORLEY (Cleveland)
RED SEAL (St. Louis)
SHIPMAN (Chicago)
SOUTHERN (St. Louis and Chicago)

These brands of strictly pure White Lead and the National Lead Co.'s Tinting colors are for sale by the best dealers in paints everywhere.

If you are going to paint, it will pay you to send to us for a book containing information that may save you many a dollar; it will only cost you a postal card to do so.

Advice to Mothers of Fretful Babies

828 Huron St., Toledo, O., July 17, '92.
Hand Medicine Co., Gentlemen:

My baby is now three months old and has had colic all her life. We gave her all kinds of remedies without any beneficial effect. I was almost discouraged in trying anything else when a friend told me of your Dr. Hand's Colic Cure. I gave her 12 drops which acted like a charm. Now as soon as I discover she has wind colic I give her one or two doses which relieves her entirely. I want to advise all mothers who have fretful babies to use Dr. Hand's Colic Cure. I will hereafter always keep it in the house.

Heiskell's Ointment

Is a positive cure for all forms of

SKIN DISEASE.

We base this assertion on our observation of over thirty years, in which time a very large number and variety of Skin Diseases have been reported to us as cured, by the simple use of Heiskell's Ointment, without the aid of internal remedies. Many of these were cases of long duration, that had resisted the treatment of the most eminent medical talent in this and other countries. Heiskell's Ointment seems never to have failed in a single instance.

CONSPIRACY EXPOSED.

Sir Gilbert Edward Campbell's Trial.

He Was Found To Be a Stool Pigeon Rather Than a Principal.

London, Sept. 28.—The trial of Sir Gilbert Edward Campbell and others associated with him in a series of frauds on persons ambitious for literary fame, terminated at the Old Bailey in a verdict of guilty.

Sir Gilbert Edward Campbell was sentenced to 18 months' imprisonment at hard labor, he appearing on the evidence to have been a stool pigeon, rather than a principal in the fraudulent schemes. W. J. Morgan, who was the chief in forming the various fraudulent societies, and obtaining money from literary aspirants, was sentenced to eight years' penal servitude.

James Sidney Tomkins, who was Morgan's right hand man, in the international society of literature and art, was sentenced to five years' penal servitude.

Wm. Nathan Steadman, one of the lesser conspirators, received a sentence of 15 months at hard labor.

David W. Tolmie, six months, and Charles Montague Clarke four months. The schemes of the conspirators have been explained in the testimony as given by several witnesses.

They obtained various sums of money from clergymen, farmers and even domestic servants upon the pretext, never fulfilled, of publishing poems and other productions, or of giving them literary employment. The sums amounted to considerable in the aggregate, and were shared between the swindlers.

Sir Gilbert Edward Campbell is an Irish nobleman of Carrick-Buoy in the county of Donegal. He is about 54 years of age and was formerly a captain in the Ninety-second Highlanders. The first baronet was his grandfather, Sir Robert Campbell, who died in 1859. Sir Gilbert Edward's father was a man of some distinction, a major of cavalry and a charge d'affaires in Persia. Sir Gilbert Edward himself has been a man of prominence.

JULIUS STRAUSS & CO.'S "FAIR."

It cannot help but be pleasing to the average Toledoan, especially to the merry shoppers who want big values for their money, to note the change in what used to be the Boston 5 and 10 cent store.

Since Julius Strauss & Co. have become the proprietors an overhauling of stock has taken place and new lines of elegant goods have been added, so that the visitor to "The Fair"—the name by which it will be known hereafter—can not only find everything in 5 and 10 cent articles, but great big bargains in the finer line of goods.

Mr. Strauss, who, by the way, is a very clever gentleman, has had large experience in catering to the multitudes in this particular line of business, and intends to fully keep up his former reputation in supplying the people with only the most beautiful and useful articles to be had in the eastern markets, all of which will be sold at very low prices. A visit to 323 Summit street will convince you that there is truth in this statement.

UPPER SANDUSKY.

The Fair Opens With Prospects of Great Success.

Upper Sandusky, O., Sept. 28.—(Special.)—The Wyandot county fair opened yesterday with good weather and fine prospects.

To-day the Forest, O., and Sycamore, O., base ball clubs will cross bats for a purse of $50. A half-mile L. A. W. bicycle race will also be run, in which the following flyers have already entered: Dunn and Van Tine, of Findlay; Simons and Plaice, of Lima; and Hemmerly, of Marion. The prizes will be $30 worth of clothing for the first and a fine bicycle lantern for the second. Thursday and Friday the usual horse races will occur and the fair will close with a championship base ball game between the Kenton, O., club and the winners of Wednesday's game.

KEELEY INSTITUTE.

To Whom it May Concern:

It affords me great pleasure to testify to the very satisfactory treatment I received at the Keeley Institute, Ypsilanti, Mich.

When but a young man, through the influence of bad company I formed the habit of drinking and kept it up for ten years. It was in the eleventh hour that the Keeley cure was brought to my attention by kind friends, and I can truly say that since I have been cured it is as if I was living in a new world. The doctor and others at the institute at all times were to me like a brother, and I cannot refrain from thanking them warmly.

With a keen desire for the continued prosperity and success of this most excellent company, I am,

Yours truly,
FRED. L. EISEMAN,

WORK OF A TRAMP.

A Plucky Woman Drives Him Away With a Stick.

Wauseon, Sept. 28.—(Special.)—A tramp called at the house of Robert Boyce, in this city yesterday and requested Mrs. Boyce to make him a cup of hot coffee, telling the usual tale of starvation.

When Mrs. Boyce stooped over to put a stick of wood in the stove the brute turned upon his benefactress with a devilish purpose and grabbed the lady.

She freed herself and picking up the stick started for him, when he fled. He has not yet been found.

TRAIN WRECKER.

He Was Caught Placing Ties on the Track.

Franklin, Pa., Sept. 28.—A man giving his name as Amos Redmond, of Mercer, Pa., was this morning caught by a section foreman placing ties on the Lake Shore track in a small ravine near Waterloo. He said he had found the obstruction and was trying to remove it. He was brought to this city, given a hearing, and in default of $1,000 bail was sent to jail.

Redmond was put off a train this morning at Polk because he could not pay his fare.

PREACHER HALL

Not Guilty of Horse Stealing, Says the Church.

Van Wert, O., Sept. 28.—Rev. J. R. Hall, who was recently bound over to the common pleas court on a charge of stealing a horse, has been tried by a court of inquiry of the church, composed of the local preachers, and acquitted of the charge, so far as the church is concerned. The verdict of the church court meets with popular approval.

AIDING THE UNFORTUNATE.

London, Sept. 28.—The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children states in its annual report that 8,324 cases have been investigated, involving many instances of diabolical cruelty. It says cruelty is not confined to the poor, but the brutality of the drunkards seldom equals the deliberate torture inflicted on children by persons who are sober.

CONSPIRATORS SENTENCED.

London, Sept. 28.—The conspirators in the Park will case were convicted and sentenced to-day. Smith, the chief of the conspirators, received a sentence of ten years imprisonment at hard labor, and Micklethwaite was sentenced to seven years. Alliston was sentenced to twelve and Ingram to six months at hard labor.

SMOOTHING IT OVER.

London, Sept. 28—A dispatch to the Standard from Rosario, Argentine Republic, says: "The conspiracy recently discovered among the garrison officers was confined to the junior officers. It has now been completely suppressed.

BROKE THE RECORD.

London, Sept. 28.—A dispatch to the Times from Calcutta says: "Conway's mountaineering party, now in the Hindoo Koosh, have climbed a peak 23,000 feet high. This is 1,000 feet higher than any recorded climb."

SPERRY RENOMINATED.

SHE WAS NOT DEAD.

A Strange Reunion in Cincinnati.

John Curran Finds His First Wife in Time to Save Him Considerable Trouble.

Cincinnati, Sept. 28.—(Special)—Some years ago John Curran was married in Ireland.

The times were hard and Curran could not make sufficient money to support himself and family.

Thinking he could do better in America, he came across the water and located at Rome, Ga. There he settled down to hard work and kept in constant communication with his wife.

After a few years he heard that his better half had died. This was a great blow to him, and he resolved never to marry again. As the years passed, he found himself growing rapidly rich. A few months ago he went into partnership with a native southerner, and they made money fast.

Curran became acquainted with a beautiful young lady in Rome and, after a short courtship, it was decided that they would join hands and fortunes.

Mr. Curran had never substantiated the report that his wife was dead, so this worried him considerably.

About two weeks ago a rumor told him that his wife was living in Cincinnati. He sent up inquiries and found that his wife was living with her sister, Mrs. Harrigan, on Mt. Adams, at 99 Hatch street.

Curran was to have been married a few days after he got the news. He immediately left home for this city and found Mrs. Curran, hale and hearty, at the locality mentioned.

A happy reunion was the result, and there was general merry-making at the Harrigan home.

Last week Mr. and Mrs. Curran left for their magnificent home in the south.

Another interesting sequel to the affair is that Mr. Curran's partner in business has fixed it up with the young lady whom Curran was to marry, and this wedding is to take place the latter part of the week.

LOOKING HIM UP.

A Strange Story Comes from Florida.

Jacksonville, Fla., Sept. 28.—A wealthy jeweler of New York, Henry Eppstein, has arrived in this city for the purpose of investigating the antecedents of Israel Engle, who is a prisoner at Aspen, Colo., on suspicion of being the murderer of Abraham Bernstein, which occurred about three months ago.

Eppstein is a near relative of the murdered man, and is determined to bring the crime home to Engle. He says that he has so far succeeded in fastening several crimes upon the accused, and he is now in this city for the purpose of looking up a mysterious murder which occurred here several years ago, and concerning which he says he has discovered facts which point to Engle.

Engle is known in a good many of the leading cities of the country, and is generally regarded by the police and those who know him as a hard case.

Bernstein was a man of considerable means, which he had accumulated by traveling through country towns in Colorado selling dry goods and other articles from a wagon. Shortly before the murder he employed Engle to assist him, but a few days later the charred remains of the wagon were found by some miners, and an examination of these brought to light several bones, buttons, and sundry articles which demonstrated conclusively that the unfortunate peddler had been burned to death.

Suspicion fell upon Engle, and he was captured near Aspen a few days later. The murdered man has several wealthy relatives in New York and elsewhere who are prepared to spend money liberally in order that justice may be done.

Many Such Cases Here.

Some of our readers would do well to follow Mr. McGiffert's advise.

Mr. Joseph McGiffert, a Prominent Hotel Proprietor, of Catskill, N. Y., Grew Worse Under Doctors' Treatment.

READ HIS OWN WORDS.

CATSKILL, N. Y.

DR. DAVID KENNEDY, Rondout, N. Y.

MY DEAR SIR:—

"I first used Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, made at Rondout, N. Y., through the advice of a prominent citizen of Catskill, N. Y. I was very sick at the time with Liver and Kidney trouble; was very much run down. I had three different doctors attending me, but continued to grow worse. I had a talk with this gentleman, in which he described his symptoms, when he was sick, and I found they were similar to mine; I told him so, and remarked, "if that medicine has done so much for you, it ought to help me." So he got a bottle for me, and I commenced "experimenting" on myself. I use the word "experiment" because I think that is all most of the Doctors do. I quit taking the Doctor's medicine when I commenced "Favorite Remedy" but did not apprise him of the fact. The result was that before half the bottle was used I felt a change. Next time the Doctor called he observed it, and said:—"There is a Change—you are better," I said I was and he again prescribed for me and was to return in a few days. When he did he made the remark that I looked "so much better," and said he would have me on my feet in a short time. I then showed him the medicine I was using in place of his, and it made him feel very "sore." Of course he claimed it was his medicine that helped me, and that I would be glad to call on him again for help, but I have not done so yet. I can also add, that there have been instances where my great faith in the "Favorite Remedy" prompted me to give a whole bottle to persons to poor too buy it.

"I take summer boarders from New York City and Brooklyn, and I have recommended it to several of them, and I have yet to hear from the one that has not been benefited from its use.

Yours respectfully,
JOS. McGIFFERT.

TO CURE INSOMNIA.

The Bicycle is Better Than Any Drugs, Says Dr. Hood, of Chicago.

"Aesculapius on wheels" is destined to be the picture on the wall at which patients will gaze while they sit in the doctor's outer office and await their turn.

Wheel-riding is rapidly growing to be one of the family physician's favorite prescriptions, and instead of going from his office to the corner drug store, the patient has instructions to go to the bicycle store. The little slip of paper he carries in his hand reads:

"Rx—One bicycle taken before and after meals." The patient and not the medicine is well shaken at the time of taking.

One of the many physicians who are now prescribing pedals in the place of pills for various distempers is Dr. C. T. Hood. He has found that bicycle-riding will in most instances cure insomnia, that it will often restring a nervous wreck or drive out the pain in creaking, rheumatic joints. Dr. Hood sometimes burns late oil in his mental workshop until his head is in a whirl and refuses to go to sleep, and then he goes into the basement, gets rid of his whirl by taking it down Jackson boulevard two or three times. Then he turns in and goes immediately to sleep.

"To sleep or not to sleep?" said the doctor, "is a question which confronts the medical fraternity far oftener than the laity has any idea of, and scarcely a week goes by that some new drug is not discovered and advised to be a sure cure for sleeplessness. This increase in the number of sleep-producing drugs means an increased demand, which means an increase in the number of poor sleepers, which is a fact.

"Anybody who will take the pains to inquire of the different druggists in his neighborhood will be surprised at the number of people who are constant patrons of the drug-store for sleep-producing drugs. During physiological sleep the brain receives sufficient blood to carry on its nutritive function only, and more or less blood than is necessary for this function may produce insomnia, or, in other words, the causes of insomnia are two—first, cerebral aenemia; second, cerebral hyperemia.

"In cerebral hyperemia the blood vessels of the brain are dilated to accommodate an increased reception of blood, and are active or passive, according as the flow is greater or less than normal. The most common cause of passive cerebral hyperemia is that due to persistent mental activity, especially so when accompanied with anxiety.

"Those who have ever passed through the throes of insomnia know the anguish of thought, the slowness of time, when seconds become hours and minutes become days. If this condition is allowed to continue it soon emerges into a state where there is no sleep, but mental depression, stupor, melancholia and insanity. With a passive cerebral hyperemia there is, without exception so far as I can find, a slower acting heart.

"The heart to exercise its normal action on the venous circulation must contract full and quick, so as to make a sudden, quick suction of the blood in the auricles and the veins empting into them. The physician who will prescribe the bromides, chlorals and opiates to a patient without any more consideration of the case than that it is one of insomnia is a poor doctor.

"One of the best remedies is horseback-riding, but it is not everybody can afford a good saddle-horse or who could even ride one. The best thing I have found productive of the most beneficial results in reducing the passive cerebral hyperemia is bicycle-riding. It increases respiration and heart action, stimulates oxygination of the blood, and by the regular exercise and removal of the venous accumulations, the torpid liver, the inactive bowels, kidneys and skin resume their normal action.

"I have sent patients to the cycle-riding school, and the have come back saying that it made them dizzy. They were drunk on oxygen, and I made them keep at it until they overcame the queer intoxication. Properly used, I will say that the bicycle is one of the efficient remedies of the times."—Chicago News Record.

A GOOD DAY FOR BEANS.

Why a Young Man Sympathizes With the Baker's Wife.

"How much do you ask for your beans?" inquired a small boy of the baker's wife.

"Twenty-cents-a-apan; give-you-back-five-cents-when-you-return-the-pan," answered the woman without looking up from the squashy matter she was stuffing into cream cake shells. It took her about half a second to make her answer.

The boy had hardly gone before a young woman in a blazer suit came in.

"Will you please tell me," said this woman, "the price of your beans?"

"Twenty-cents-a-pan; give-you-back-five-cents-when-you-return-the-pan," answered the baker's wife as she scooped a heaping spoonful of slush and drove it spitefully into one of the shells.

"What's them beans worth?" demanded a hungry looking man whose appearance indicated that he was in the furniture-van business.

"Twenty-cents-a-pan; give-you-back-five cents-when-you-return-the-pan," answered the baker's wife.

"Good morning, madam," said an old chap with a white chocker; "beautiful day, madam."

"Yes," said the baker's wife, "nice air to-day."

"Kind of air to give a man an appetite," suggested the parson.

"Yes, I should think so," assented the baker's wife.

The old man looked about the store a minute and then going up in front of the baker's wife he asked: "Madam, will you kindly tell me the price of those appetizing beans in the window?"

A shade of sadness passed over the fair face of the baker's wife, but she answered as before, and without a second's loss of time. "Twenty-cents-a-pan; give-you-back-five-cents-when-you-return-the-pan."

"I should think you'd go crazy over those blamed beans," said a young man who was having coffee and cakes at a little table in the rear of the shop.

"What's that?" demanded the baker's wife sharply.

"I said that I should go crazy if I had to fool with those beans as you do," said the young man.

"So would I if I kept up like this all the time," the baker's wife said. "But it don't. Beans go in streaks just as everything else does. I may not have another inquiry for beans this whole forenoon."

She had, though, before the young man had finished paying for coffee and cakes a tall, lank creature, in a faded calico wrapper had been there asking: "How much's your beans?" and the baker's wife had told her:

"Twenty-cents-a-pan; give-you-back-five-cents-when-you-return-the-pan."

FLOWERS TRANSPORTED IN ICE.

A decided novelty is on view at the Royal Aquarium, Westminster, in connection with the exhibition of the National Chrysanthemum society. For the first time in history flowers from New Zealand have been imported in ice; and the experiment has proved a complete success. In the antipodes the culture of the chrysanthemum has awakened a good deal of interest. There April corresponds with the English chrysanthemum month of November; but until this year the growers here have had no means of accurately judging the methods of the plants reared in our Australasian colonies. It occurred to Mr. Earland, gardener to a gentleman living at Wellington, to take a few of his finest flowers to the Meat Refrigerating Works. There they were placed in tin canisters filled with water and then frozen. The tins were yesterday opened at the Royal Aquarium and found to contain each a solid block of transparent ice, in the middle of which, embedded as it were in pure crystal, was a beautiful bloom, perfect in shape and color, and comparing, as experts declared, with the finest varieties customarily exhibited in England, in recognition of the success of the enterprise, taken in conjunction with its merits, a silver-gilt medal was awarded, the feeling being that by way of encouragement to the New Zealand growers a special prize should be given.—London Telegraph.

A REAL HEROINE.

How a Brave Woman Telegraph Operator Saved a Train from Destruction.

Miss Ransom was the telegraph operator and station agent on a little road called the Columbia and Port Deposit division of the Pennsylvania line, says the Washington Star. This road hugged the banks of the Susquehanna river from end to end and there wasn't a spot on the entire division of 40 miles that it wasn't almost sure death to the train hands for a train to leave the rails. Wrecks occurred on an average of once a week and were always followed by severe fatalities. The station she was located at was near immense limestone quarries wherein some half a hundred Italians were employed. About 100 yards above the station was a hundred-foot trestle spanning a small stream at ordinary times, but on the day in question greatly swollen and very swift as it emptied into the river at that point. A blast had just been fired of unusual force and an immense rock landed directly on the trestle, tearing it apart in the center, the swift water washing away the debris and leaving a gap in the rails of about 25 feet. The river was very high at that point and the small boats that were handy could not be propelled against the swift current. The nearest bridge on the little stream over which the trestle was stretched was some three miles distant.

Miss Ransom saw the mischief done by the rock and immediately rushed out and told the superintendent of the Italian gang to send a man or go himself around the wreck and stop a train that was due from the north in about half an hour. The superintendent was an Italian, with a smattering of English, but who failed entirely to see the gravity of the situation. The only wire that ran along the road had been stretched on the trestle for economy's sake and had been broken with the trestle, so that no communication with the north could be had. Miss Ransom tried to tell the Italian the true situation, but he only smiled and with a shrug of his shoulders and a grimmace walked back into the quarry and resumed his overseeing.

Miss Ransom hesitated but a minute to ask if anyone in the crowd could swim, and receiving a negative answer, decided, with the aid of a plank, to try crossing the river. The Italians in their impetuous way tried to persuade her not to attempt the swollen waters, but with the decision of a true heroine who realized the danger the oncoming train was in, she cautiously pushed the plank into the water and with a quick movement followed it. The brave girl had entered the water some distance above the broken trestle in the hope of gaining the opposite shore before that point should be reached, as to be carried out into the river meant almost certain death. The Italians encouraged her with shouts of praise, but endeavor as she would to work her way out of the current in midstream, but little headway was made.

Down stream the brave girl was carried with a swiftness that told plainer than words that her struggles were fruitless. As she neared the broken trestle, inch by inch she worked the plank over toward the northern side, and as she was within a few feet of that structure she abandoned the plank and struck out with one forlorn hope of reaching it unaided. Her foresight and strength proved strong qualifications. As she was being carried by the projecting and splintered trestle Miss Ransom gave one last strong sweep of her arms and was enabled to grasp a heavy piece of timber.

Slowly and laboriously the heroine worked her way out of the water and up through the trestle, as her strength commenced to show signs of waning, and finally reached the top. For only a few seconds did she hesitate to gasp for breath and regain strength, when she staggered to her feet and hurried down the track.

It was a close calculation. Miss Ransom had hardly turned the curve when the noise of the oncoming train could be heard and a few seconds later dashed into view. The wild gesticulations of the brave girl caught the attention of the engineer almost instantly, and brakes were applied and the train brought to a standstill right on the curve and in sight of the broken trestle. With a quiver in her voice Miss Ransom told the engineer of the mishap, and in a matter-of-fact way, without any embellishments, related her experience in trying to prevent the train from going through the broken trestle into the river. The dozen or so passengers on the train were dumbfounded by the girl's matter-of-fact bravery, and crowded around her and almost hugged her in enthusiasm and thankfulness.

Did that girl make her mark in the telegraph profession? Not much. She married the engineer whose life she had saved.

STORY OF LETTUCE.

A French Baby Girl Who Inherits Sleepiness From Her Mother.

It is generally known that lettuce makes one sleepy if he eats very much, but its action probably has never been observed to extend so far as in a case recently noted in Paris, says the New York Recorder. It is the story of a certain little baroness who had been taken by her baron to supper at a swell restaurant previous to his departure on a diplomatic mission to Morocco. The lady was in that happy condition that prefers green apples to all the diamonds in the market, and a luscious salad to the wisest charms of the poet.

At the supper the romaine was the whitest, firmest, sweetest ever fatigued with oil and vinegar by a manipulating garcon. The little baronne, who adored her husband, actually swore a big ladylike swear that she would eat nothing but lettuce till the baron returned from Morocco. Many a time, in his Moorish exile, the impatient baron feared that his progeny would bear the mark of a lettuce heart on each little right arm; and that his daughter, if he ever had one, when she grew old enough to wear a decollete ball dress, would scarcely thank her parents if her pretty arm appeared tatooed with green leaves.

The baroness, if she did not absolutely live on salad, made the lettuce her principal article of food, and, though her friends found her very sleepy, they took her silence for devotion to her absent love. When the attache to the Morocco mission returned, six months after, he found himself the father of a mignonne little daughter, and, to his delight, both her arms were as smooth and spotless as polished pink coral. But the cherub passed 24 hours out of the 24 asleep. It slept so diligently that its parents were really alarmed, and the baron would have welcomed a midnight pedestrian tour, such as most fathers regard as a hideous assault of fate. But the baby didn't need to be put to sleep by such means. She needed to be wakened. No bad results had followed up to last accounts, but the baroness was not eating any more salad and was devising schemes for preventing her little daughter from becoming a mere rabbit.

Ely has been doing some brilliant work at short for Memphis since he joined that club. He is a rattling good fielder and a fair hitter. It is not generally known that Ely was formerly a pitcher, but such is the case. His home is at Girard, Pennsylvania, and when he made his debut as a professional with the Youngstown's club in 1885, it was as a pitcher. Afterwards he began to play the field and finally went to short, where he plays all the time now.

The old home of Mr. Blaine's ancestors in Carlisle, Pa., a large brick building, is soon to be torn down to make way for improvements. The house has remained unchanged for years, except that its rooms have been used as law offices.

THE PASSING SUMMER.

Summer is gone! We now regret with tears
Her varied charms: the strawberries, the peas,
The roses, all her wealth of benefits
Which from her horn of plenty she outpours;
Forgetting and forgiving minor woes
Of flies or heat, mosquitoes, sun or dust,
That spoil complexions, temper, frocks and fun.
Summer has fled! And with her disappear
Her sweet creation, her bright, fairest flower,
Whom flippant people, knowing not her charms,
Delight to libel as the Summer Girl.

Sweet daughter she of August and July!
I love her, and her lovers count by scores.
'Tis she who wears those luring gowns displayed
In great shop windows in the early spring,
That men admire and their wives never buy.
Hers are those ginghams, muslins, mulls and things
Which make a rainbow of the baking streets;
Hers are those dainty shoes, red as the rose
Or white as lilies, or yet brown, or tan,
Or bright, deep yellow, like the marigolds,
That dot the dusty sidewalk till it blooms
And blossoms like a brilliant flower bed.
Hers, too, those flaunting, flirting, fleeting skirts
So deftly raised to show those pretty feet
And just a glimpse of something more above,
That when she passed, her ribbons flutt'ring by
Fanned the hot air and seemed to sweeten it.

She cheered the stay-at-home till he forgot
His missed vacation, troubles, woes and debts,
And stopped to wonder who she was; and then
Just thanked his stars and blessed her pretty face.
We loved her much, in white, or pink, or blue,
So clean, so cool, always so sweet a sight.
But now, alas! alas! autumn is here,
In sombre tailor gown she's not the same,
Our love is fled; the Summer Girl has gone!

PICKED UP AT SEA.

Narrow Escape of the May Gibbon's Crew.

The Boat Was Struck by a Hurricane and Completely Dismatled.

Galveston, Tex., Sept. 28.—Captain Amos Sabean, of the schooner May Gibbon, from Portland, Me., August 19, for Demerara, with a cargo of staves and white pine and a crew of five men, arrived here last evening from St. Michaels on the steamship Acme, and reports that August 21 the schooner was struck by a hurricane, which raged with fearful intensity for two days.

On the 22nd the vessel was struck by a huge wave, which knocked it flat, washing overboard William Bowers, C. Bowers, Douglass Bowers, and Theodore Wolf, four of the crew, all from Fort Madison, N. S.

John G. Bruce, the other seaman, had his leg fractured, and the captain was thrown overboard, but caught in the rigging and succeeded in keeping afloat until he and Bruce were rescued August 23, by the steamer Vega and landed at St. Michaels. The May Gibbon was owned by B. C. Morse, of Boston.

PROVED TO BE THE BEST.

Tested and proved by over thirty years' use in all parts of the world, Allcock's Porous Plasters have the indorsement of the highest medical and chemical authorities and millions of grateful patients who have been cured of distressing ailments voluntarily testify to their merits.

Allcock's Porous Plasters are purely vegetable. They are mild but effective, sure and quick in their action, and absolutely harmless.

Beware of imitations, and do not be deceived by misrepresentation. Ask for Allcock's, and let no solicitation or explanation induce you to accept a substitute.

BIG CELEBRATION.

San Diego, Cal., Sept. 28.—The three hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the discovery of San Diego bay is being celebrated here on an elaborate scale to-day. The ceremonies included a municipal parade, followed by a mass meeting and speeches. The town is elaborately decorated in honor of the occasion.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla does what no other blood medicine in existence can do. It searches out all the impurities in the system and expels them harmlessly through the proper channels. This is why Ayer's Sarsaparilla is so pre-eminently effective as a remedy for rheumatism.

REPUBLICAN CLUBS.

Williamsport, Pa., Sept. 28.—The annual convention of the state league of republican clubs was called to order today by Congressman John B. Robinson, of Media. It is the largest convention in the history of the state, and the report of the secretary shows that rapid strides have been made during the past year. There will be a mass meeting to-night to be addressed by several notable speakers.

MURDEROUS DEED.

Jersey City, Sept. 28.—John Woods, aged 67, shot his son-in-law, George Heritage yesterday and thinking him dead, blew his own brains out. Woods at one time was a wealthy brush manufacturer, but failed, his losses unsettling his mind. On April 30 he murderously assaulted his wife and attempted to kill himself. He recovered, however, as did his wife. Heritage was not dangerously wounded.

SENATOR MILLS ILL.

Corsicana, Tex., Sept. 28.—Senator Mills of Texas has been sick. His physicians do not pronounce his condition serious and ascribe it to overwork and the grip.

IT WAS A FAMILY ROW,

And It Ended in a Bloody Tragedy.

A Daughter-in-Law Causes Trouble in a Paterson, N. J., Home.

Paterson, N. J., Sept. 28.—Fred Mellenburg murdered his wife and wounded his daughter in this city and then committed suicide. A week ago Antoine Mellenburg, aged 32, sued his father Frederick for money expended upon repairs of the parent's home and recovered $75 judgment.

This the father failed to pay, deeding the house to his wife. Since then there has been continued fighting between the parents and their daughter, Lena Roselle. When the latter visited her mother yesterday afternoon, Mellenburg entered the room and said to his daughter:

"What will the court do with me?"

"You will be sold out," replied the daughter.

This enraged Mellenburg, who, pulling a pistol, shot his daughter. He then shot his wife through the head and turned the weapon upon himself, firing a bullet into his left temple. With the blood streaming from the wound he ran out of the house and down the stoop, falling dead at the foot of the steps. Mrs. Mellenberg staggered after him, falling over his corpse.

The daughter will recover.

Mrs. Roselle's son, aged 15, told the police that he saw his uncle Antoine give his grandfather a pistol, telling him to use it if he had to. Antoine will be arrested. The boy identified the pistol.

Seventeen years ago the elder Mellenburg was sent to state prison for trying to burn his home.

Five years later he tried to commit suicide by cutting his throat. He was 74 years old and his wife 78.

THE TRUE LAXATIVE PRINCIPLE

Of the plants used in manufacturing the pleasant remedy, Syrup of Figs, has a permanently beneficial effect on the human system, while the cheap vegetable extracts and mineral solutions, usually sold as medicines, are permanently injurious. Being well-informed, you will use the true remedy only. Manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co.

SONS OF TEMPERANCE.

New York, Sept. 28.—Delegates from all of the various state branches in the country of the Sons of Temperance of North America, met here this morning in their forty-eighth annual session of the national division. The annual report will show a great growth in the membership of the order during the past year. To-morrow the ##ieth anniversary of the founding of the association will be appropriately celebrated.

KILLED WITH A PENKNIFE.

Jackson, Miss., Sept. 28.—J. K. Alman, editor of the Durant Democrat, killed Victor Hamilton, son of State Senator Hamilton, yesterday. Hamilton while drunk, went into Alman's office, used violent language and was ejected. He returned and attacked the editor with a brick. Alman drew his penknife, stabbing him about the neck, killing him.

LOW RATES TO HILLSDALE.

Account of the Hillsdale fair, to be held October 3 to 7, inclusive, the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern railway will sell excursion tickets to Hillsdale and return on above dates, at one fare for the round trip, with 25 cents added for admission to the grounds. Tickets will be good going on date of sale, and returning not later than October 8.

MORE SEIZURES.

Dutch Harbor, Sept. 28.—The British sealers Oscar and Hattie, Mohican, Atta Gland, and Henrietta, seized by the Yorktown in Bering sea, have been sent to Sitka with the Corwin for evading revenue.

CLOUDBURST.

Brunswick, Ga., Sept. 28.—A cloudburst visited this place yesterday, damaging property worth $20,000. Many streets were inundated. Rain has fallen for 22 days.

A freak of nature, a large tree which possesses the characteristics of a pine and an oak, may be seen near Ashburnham, Mass. In the fall of the year pine burs fall on one side and acorns on the other.

The great search light on top of Mount Washington, which is now in successful operation, by the intense beam of light it projects has enabled people to read coarse print at the Fabyan house, seven miles distant.

MERCURIAL

Mr. J. C. Jones, of Fulton, Ark., says of S.S.S. "About ten years ago I contracted a severe case of blood poison. Leading physicians prescribed medicine after medicine, which I took without any relief. I also tried mercurial and potash remedies, with unsuc-

Health and Comfort are Destroyed

by the use of poor smoking tobacco. The one tobacco that has held its own through all the changes of time and against all competitors is Blackwell's Bull Durham Smoking Tobacco.

WHY?

Because it's always pure, always the same, always the best. Such a record tells more than pages of "talk." It's just as good to-day as ever and it is the tobacco for you. If you smoke, you should smoke

WHAT FOOD COSTS.

One-Half of the Money Men Earn Goes for Bread and Butter.

Many systematic attempts have been made to determine an exact relation of the cost of food to the other elements of life, says Edward Atkinson.

Owing to the difficulty of getting separate statements of that part of the food which is included in grocery bills with other family supplies—soap, brooms, and the like—so as to be able to add that element from the grocers' bills to the butchers' and bakers' bills, it has been a matter of extreme difficulty to secure exact data.

In Germany Dr. Engel, who is of the highest authority, has secured from all the information which can be obtained an approximate rule as follows:

"With respect to all persons who can be classed among the working people, the salaried or the employed classes, earning from less than $1 to $3 or even $4 a day, living in groups of three to five at a cost of from $400 to $1,200 each group per annum, the sum expended for food material comes to one-half or more of the income.

"On the average one person in this country supports two others, making a working group of three. The family group is a fraction under five persons."

The most complete investigation as to the relative cost of all the elements of living made in any country within my knowledge has been published by Commissioner Carroll D. Wright, of the United States department of labor, in his report of the iron and steel industries.

In this report will be found the statistics of the expenditures of 2,490 selected families, averaging five persons each, numbering in all 12,450 persons, deriving their subsistence from the wages earned in mining iron ore and bituminous coal, in making coke and in converting ore and coal into pig iron, bar iron and steel. This list covers members from the lowest up to the highest grade of work in these arts.

The total expenditure for each family is $551.40, against earnings, $620.55; the average expenditure per person, omitting fractions, $111 per year.

Disregarding fractions, the expenditures in money disclosed by these figures are as follows:

	Per person.	Per family.
For rent	$ 15	$ 75
For food	49	245
For clothing	23	115
For sundries	24	120
Total	$111	$555

The money cost of food is therefore 46 per cent. of the whole sum spent. If a reasonable addition be made by estimate for the value of the vegetables, milk, meat and eggs of domestic production, this analysis fairly sustains the ration of food at one-half the cost of living; rent, clothing and sundries the other half.

If we assume that wherever rent, clothing and sundries amount to $62 per person, the food purchased or produced will amount to the same valuation, we even then reach a daily expenditure of only 17 cents per person, including children, which would represent about 20 cents a day per adult.

LOVE TAKES A BACK SEAT.

The Man Who Tried To Be Fair With His Wife.

"I read in the paper," he said to his wife, "that there were four cases of cholera in the city, so I just took a little nip."

"Go on; you break my heart."

"Then I walked a block or two and a newsboy said that he had an extra with information of nine new cases. I took another drink to ward off the germs."

Weeping, she did not reply.

"I went along half a mile when I read on a big bulletin that the cholera was spreading with alarming rapidity. I then took two bowls and half a pint of old Tom as a preventive."

"Oh, you brute."

"Then I heard one man say to another that it was awful, and so I took another drop or two."

"That is enough."

"Well, it should have been, but it was not. I heard another feller say that they died like sheep in an epidemic. I took two more horns, and that is all I recall."

"I will tell you the rest. You came home last night as full as a goat. Is that the way to set the example to the rising generation?"

"It is not; but it is better than the cholera. I married for love, but when love comes in contact with the cholera germs, love must take a back seat. Fair warning now, for I'll be tight till frost comes."—New York Herald.

NERVOUS GIRLS.

Timely Suggestions for the Treatment of Such.

In Dr. Louis Fiske Bryson's recent paper on "Education in the Treatment of Nervous Girls" occurs this timely admonition: "Instruction should begin in childhood in the art of dressing well, according to the strictest conventionality. Theoretic dressing is dangerous at all times, especially for those who have weak nerves. Fantastic or unusual combinations should be frowned down at once. Whatever makes nervous girls appear different from others in their own eyes, more artistic, picturesque or ideal, more elevated in thought because they despise, or affect to despise, fashion and the ways of ordinary human beings, should be gently but firmly set aside. While it is only right and proper to allow girls of every description freedom of choice in regard to personal adornment, within certain fixed limits, anything approaching a 'costume' is to be deprecated for children and young women of unstable, nervous system, as it attracts attention and deepens self-consciousness, the very thing to be avoided. Self-possession and forgetfulness of our own personality are more a matter of conventional clothes than at first appears. The sensible, easily disturbed child has one source of irritation removed by the knowledge that its garments are correct in style, cut, fit and color, and that it looks like all the rest of the conventional world, and is, therefore, one expression of good form. Then whatever nerve force she has can be used in development and growth, and not in futile attempts at philosophy, in the vain endeavor to make imperfect dressing endurable."

PLACING THE BLAME.

Incidents Which Led Up to the Sudden Losing of the Head of Mrs. McCarthy's Goat.

He was a boy about twelve years of age and he had in his hand a railroad torpedo which he had picked up off the tracks. As he came along by Mrs. McCarthy's cabin he looked in and shouted:

"Mrs. McCarthy, your old Billy goat is following me about for an apple."

"Then give him one," she bluntly replied, without looking up from her washtub.

"But I ain't got none."

"Then give him somethin' else."

"Would you mind his chewin' up a small tin box full of ointment, Mrs. McCarthy?"

"Indade, I wouldn't. I'm a thinkin' he'd be all the healthier fur havin' his insides greased a bit. Don't kape him on the ragged age, as they call it, but hand it over."

"It may not be ointment, Mrs. McCarthy," said the boy as a doubt arose in his mind.

"Then it's glue, and glue won't hurt a goat if it don't do him no good. Is he lookin' at ye?"

"He is."

"Is he smellin av the box?"

"He is."

"Is he waggin' av his tail?"

"The same, Mrs. McCarthy."

"Then give it to him. His since of shmell teaches him that there's sumthin' refreshin' in the box."

The boy hesitated no longer, but dropped the box and crossed the street. The goat seized the box in his mouth, turned around three or four times and then stood still and worked his jaws. He couldn't remember of ever having tasted of such fruit before, and he was hurrying to get down to the core, when there was a flash and an explosion and he turned a back handspring and lay quiet.

"And now what's the racket?" demanded Mrs. McCarthy, as she appeared at the door.

"Is he dead?" called the boy.

"Houly mither of Moses! He's no longer a head on him!"

"You told me to give him the box."

"I did that, and don't you worry about it. It was niver the box that got away wid my goat in this fashion after his eaten' over a thousand of all sorts. It's them fellers down at Sandy Hook agin. They've fired another spot as big as a bar'l, and another hape of sand has got in the way and deflected the ball into me dooryard. Kape shtill on the box, Dennis, and don't breathe a word fur your life! I've got a clear case agin' Sandy Hook, and I'll niver let up 'till the government puts a new roof on me shanty and hands me fifty av the long green dollars that buys provisions and rides you down to Coney Island av a Sunday afthernoon!"—New York Herald.

KEPT THE SECRET CLOSELY.

Hundreds of People in Peril of Their Lives Without Knowing It.

At high tide last evening, says the San Francisco Call, the ferry steamer Oakland was brought off the drydock in West Oakland, where she had been undergoing extensive repairs. This event recalls to mind the launching of the steamer Piedmont a few years ago, when the escape from death of nearly 500 passengers on the incoming steamer Oakland was measured by a hair's breadth. No one ever knew it except the officers and employes on the two boats. Some of the passengers even clapped their hands as the two steamers grazed each other, and imagined that it had all been arranged to show off the new steamer. The Piedmont had been tugged to the mole for an inspection of her machinery, and the order had been given to haul her out for a trial trip. Full steam was up, and the captain, with Master Shipbuilder Marr and the master mechanic, stood in the wheelhouse. They were to give one whistle, when the time came, as a signal to the man stationed near the back rudder, to pull the rudder pin, so as to swing the vessel around outside the pier. Everything went swimmingly, but when it was time for the signal and the captain pulled the rope no whistle came. Horrified, he gave the rope tug after tug, but it was useless.

It was evening, and bearing down upon them was the Oakland, crowded with passengers. They were approaching perilously near. There was not a second to spare. Shouts to the man at the rudder were of no avail. He stood calmly awaiting the signal agreed upon, and fully 500 people were approaching to death, utterly unconscious of the fact. The captain shouted down the tube to the engineer and he reversed his engine. But the vessel must be turned or destruction was inevitable. The pilot of the Oakland, seeing that there was something wrong, swerved from his course, and just then the presence of mind of Archie Marr came to the rescue. Pale, with every nerve under tension, knowing that each second was precious, he rushed from the wheelhouse to the steam whistle and pulled it open. No one had thought of that before. The long screeching sound that followed was the signal, and the man at the rudder pulled the pin. As the vessel swung around she grazed the Oakland, but no one knew how near it had come to being a collision. The secret has been carefully kept by the officers to this day, although they were to be commended rather than blamed.
